Viet Cong Attacks Inflict Heavy Toll; U.S. Planes Busy

American Troops Advancing Through Red Jungle Stronghold

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist Viet Cong forces today launched a two-pronged attack against a government military training center and a nearby provincial capital 75 miles southwest of Saigon, inflicting "heavy casualties."

In other ground action, Viet Cong guerrillas attacked a district capital 85 miles southeast of Da Nang with mortar, recoilless rifle and sniper fire early today. "Light casualties" were reported in the raid near the giant U.S. air base.

A third Viet Cong force of unknown number attacked and inflicted "heavy" casualties on a government platoon defending an abandoned airfield at Tuy Hoa, between the coastal cities of Qui Nhon and Nha Trang.

In the air war, U.S. planes flew more than 31 sorties against Communist North Viet Nam. Four of the planes, U.S. Navy A6 intruders from the carrier Independence, dropped four tons of bombs on a power plant 75 miles south of Hanoi. It was the second attack on the plant in two days. A U.S. spokesman said all planes returned safely to their carrier.

In the South, the Communist attacks in the Mekong delta hit the Tan An military training center and the town of Cao Lanh, the capital of Kien Phong Province. No Americans were reported involved in the action.

An American military spokesman said the defenders suffered "heavy casualties."

The fighting southwest of Saigon came as thousands of American airborne and infantry troops pushed deeper into a Communist guerrilla stronghold 40 miles southeast of Saigon. The sweeping operation went into its third day with no contact with the Viet Cong.

The air attacks today on North Viet Nam included the dropping of 420,000 propaganda leaflets over two cities, including historic Dien Bien Phu, 180 miles west of Hanoi near the Laotian border.

President Gets 49 Governors' Nod On Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's governors—with a single exception—were lined up solidly today in support of President Johnson's decision to double the draft calls and send more troops to Viet Nam.

The exception was Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, who said he wanted to wait and see before giving his approval to the latest administration war measure.

Johnson did manage to convert another prominent critic, however. Michigan Gov. George W. Romney said, "I support the President's actions .. and I urge all Americans to do the same."

The Chief Executive summoned the state governors to the White House late yesterday for two hours of high - level briefing on Viet Nam. Among those at the session were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

The governors of 49 states and two territories attended the briefing. The only absentee was Connecticut Gov. John N. Dempsey, who is traveling in Ireland. Dempsey, a Democrat, has expressed his support of the Presidents' policies frequently in the past.

The President obviously was cheered by the discussion. Asked how the meeting went, he said: "couldn't have gone better. . .wonderful. . .a fine degree of unity and understanding among all of us."

At United Nations, President Johnson today had Secretary General Thant's assurance that he would strive "by all the means at my disposal" to bring peace to Viet Nam.

Thant made the pledge to Johnson in a letter handed to U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg yesterday for delivery to the President.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson said last night President

Guard Units Readiness To Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Certain selected units of the National Guard and Reserve will be brought to peak readiness in the months ahead, officials said today.

This was evidence that a call-up of Reserve forces remains a strong possibility for the future, even if President Johnson has decided against such a course for the present.

In effect, the Pentagon will be creating a super-ready Reserve that will have the highest priority.

Units so tapped likely will be given additional weekend training, will get new clothing supplies, new spare parts for their equipment and possibly additional gear from stockpiles and lower priority units.

They would be the first to go into federal service and, officials hope, would be in the best possible shape to meet their deployment objectives — eight

Lightning Bolt Kills Marines In Viet Nam

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Three U.S. Marines were killed tonight when a bolt of lightning struck their position a mile and a half southwest of the Da Nang Air Base.

No further details were available on the incident.

Sea-Going Family Anchors In Marin Before Epic Trip

By GLEN BECKER

"When we started we had never been on a boat, but we wanted to do something with the children before they got away from us."

That was 10 years ago. Within 10 days the Tom Bailey family of Portland, Ore., will be out in the Pacific Ocean, bound for Newpart Beach on the first leg of a two-year journey in their 56-foot sailing yacht, the Stella Maris.

In the meantime they are tied up at Loch Lomand Marina, getting their vessel in shape and the crew likewise. The latter includes the cap'n o' the ship, Tom Bailey; his mate, Mrs. Tom (Joyce) Bailey; three young swabbies, Judy, 16, Lynn, 15, and Scott, 13; and at least temporarily a Portland neighbor, Bob McNiesh, 18.

Last year at this time Bailey, now 38, was running the Portland Publications House, a printing firm. "Marine West," a magazine dealing with commercial vessels which is put out by Donald E. Owen of Mill Valley was one of the jobs his house did.

"I did more business in the six months before I sold the business (a few months ago) than in any previous year," Bailey said in a deep baritone voice which seemed well-suited to the broadcasting profession.

One's suspicion was soon confirmed. Bailey had been working on a radio station, doing man - in - the - street interviews, when he met his wife at the same station. The station was owned by the Portland Journal and he was before long working on it. That led to his printing establishment.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are natives of Portland (his grandfather arrived there in 1851) and have live there all their lives. It will be a long time before they see the Rose City again.

They have arranged to continue the education of their children through correspondence courses from the University of Oregon. When they leave New-

Would-Be Girl Friday Seeks Job At Age 11

When tiny, 11-year-old Velma Deschwanden of San Rafael walked into a downtown florist's shop and asked for a summer job yesterday, the woman behind the counter said, "You're kidding."

Then Velma pulled out her registration card from the California Department of Employment's youth employment service.

After a quick double take, the woman in the shop had a long, serious talk with the boss. He didn't give Velma a job, but she wasn't discouraged.

The serious blond youngster continued her search through door-to-door stops at other San Rafael firms, including a talk with assistant publisher Wishard Brown of the Independent-Journal.

To him, she repeated what she had said earlier at the department of employment's San Rafael office: She wants to be a secretary.

"Do you type?" asked Brown.

The girl said she did, and Brown asked what method she used.

"I use a typewriter," replied Velma without a trace of humor.

He asked her if she took shorthand. She said she did.

"What system there?"

"I use a pencil," said Velma.

To a reporter, Velma said her mother, who married Civic Center Post Office employee Lynne Boyd last year, had moved from Nevada City in May.

Since then, the Boyds, with four other children besides Velma, have lived at 1714 Mission Avenue. Velma will be in the seventh grade this fall at Davidson School.

Velma said she has always enjoyed work more than play, and long ago decided that, more than anything, she wants to be a secretary when she grows up.

Instead of asking for dolls, she asked her mother to buy

Parolee Faces Questions As Fairfax Kidnap Suspect

A man held by San Francisco police for parole violation will be questioned regarding the strange six-hour kidnapping Sunday of 21-year-old Fairfax housewife Sandra Lee Maher, Fairfax Police Chief James Orr revealed today.

George A. Jackson, 34, of San Francisco is being held on request of his parole officer, who was looking for him in regard to a charge that he was found in possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe. His case will be heard in an Oakland court Thursday. In addition, San Francisco police are holding him in connection with three unpaid parking tickets.

Jackson was in a lineup yesterday at San Francisco Hall of Justice at which Mrs. Maher was asked to idnetify her kidnaper. Chief Orr refused to reveal the results of the lineup.

Jackson was paroled last July from Soledad Prison after serving five years of a five-to-life term for selling narcotics. Since then he has been treated at a county hospital and the narcotics treatment center at San Quentin Prison.

Supervisor Tax Roll Task Is Challenged

Board Asked To Give Up Equalization Operation

By FRANK FARRARA

The attorney for a group of Belvedere Lagoon property owners late yesterday challenged the right of a county board of supervisors to sit as a board of equalization hearing tax assessment protests.

Richard B. Weinstein of San Francisco, representing 141 property owners on the Belvedere Lagoon, asked that the board disqualify itself from hearing the owners' applications for reduced assessments.

Weinstein served the challenge to the board midway during the afternoon equalization hearing. Supervisors accepted it without comment and referred it to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

NOT PERSONAL

Outside board chambers, he told reporters, "This is not a personal attack."

He said it is an attack on the system whereby supervisors serve as a board of equalization.

Weinstein asked that an "impartial, unprejudiced tribunal" be assigned to hear his clients' protests.

If the board does not assign the hearings to an impartial group, it should declare the assessments on his clients' void, he said.

COURT ACTION

If the challenge is ruled out, he will prepare for court action, he said.

Supervisors are property owners in the county, and if they reduce others' assessments, they are increasing their own taxes, Weinstein said. "This is a direct conflict of interest."

In an accompanying affidavit, he recited that supervisors' salaries and compensations are derived from the taxes levied

Painter Pickets Continue

Pickets from San Francisco continued to keep Marin County painters off several jobs today as the International Painters Union worked to settle a disagreement between Marin Local 83 and the union's San Francisco-North Bay District Council.

The Marin local signed a contract Wednesday night on its own, and the district council immediately vowed to do all it could—including a court injunction, if necessary—to block the Marin contract.

This morning, Harry Bigarani, secretary of District Council 8, met with officials of the Marin local in San Rafael. With Bigarani was Al King of Oakland, an official of the international union.

"Our orders are to straighten it out immediately," Bigarani said before the meeting.

After the session broke up just before noon, Ernest F. Kennedy, Local 83's financial secretary, said "they are getting it ironed out," but he declined to go into details.

New Contract Agreed Upon By Mechanics

Auto mechanics and new car dealers in Marin County yesterday agreed on a new three-year contract which will bring the mechanics a total increase of 80 cents hourly in wages and fringe benefits.

Dealers said the wage boost will automatically increase the cost of auto repairs.

The contract calls for a 30 cent hike the first year, followed by 25 cents and 15 cents in the second and third year, plus fringe benefits worth another 10 cents.

Hugh (Greg) Weatherford, president of the Marin County Motor Car Dealers Assn., said increased labor charges "definitely will be" charged on all repair work by Marin dealers.

Weatherford said accountants at the firm he manages, Mill Valley Volkswagen, now are calculating the exact increase in service charges.

Mechanics' salaries, he explained, form the base rate from which all salaries in an auto firm's service department must be figured.

"Labor is getting more," said Weatherford, "so we simply pass it on to the public."

Mechanics had stayed on the job during negotiations. A contract guaranteeing a 67-cent package over three years was signed yesterday in San Mateo County, but San Francisco mechanics stayed off the job in a walkout which began Monday.

Bruce Defends Auto License Fee Hike For Bus Service

County Administrator Alan Bruce today charged the California State Automobile Assn. with issuing "incorrect and misleading" information.

He sited the association's statement against the proposed 25 per cent increase in auto license fees to help finance bus operation by the Marin County Transit District.

Bruce said the association's claim that a similar tax was levied by San Mateo County and was "quickly repealed because of unfavorable reaction" was not true.

There was "very little unfavorable public reaction" in San Mateo County, Bruce claimed.

San Mateo kept the tax only one year, making no attempt to levy it for a second year. Bruce said it raised all the money needed the first year.

Bruce also said the association "suggests that the present in-lieu tax revenues be used for transit purposes. This would be legal, "but would be an apparent device to increase property taxes in the exact same proportion," he claimed.

Bruce also objected to the use of the word "subsidize." There

Night Club Man Shot To Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A San Francisco restaurant and night club owner was shot to death in his apartment early today. Police were holding his wife in the shooting.

George Lavery, 45, owner of a restaurant and the Bora Bora night club, was killed by two shots from a 9-millimeter automatic.

Lavery's wife of two months, Gail, 48, told police they had returned from an evening at Lavery's bistros and began to argue. She said he threatened to beat her, and the shooting ensued.

Corpse In Bay Identified As Lost Yachtsman

A body found floating near Angel Island was identfied by the San Francisco coroner's office yesterday as that of the skipper of an 18-foot sloop that disappeared May 13 after sailing from Sausalito with four aboard.

He was John Howard Lathrop, 23, a San Francisco teacher. The body was found Monday. Dental charts established identity.

The bodies of Steve Schulusberg, 23, of San Lorenzo and Claudina Ching, 23, of Oakland were found earlier this month.

Warren Havercroft, 21, of Hayward is still missing.

Saturn Rocket Has Another Success

CAPE ENNEDY (UPI) — America's last Saturn-1 rocket wound up a string of fantastic successes today by orbiting a Pegasus space sweeper satellite equipped with trophies space walking astronauts may some day return to earth.

The powerful booster, the pioneer of the U.S. breed of super space launchers, closed out its four-year test program with a perfect 10 for 10 record—a mark unmatched by any other American rocket.

Its final success was known 11 minutes after the on-time 9 a.m., EDT blastoff when a space agency spokesman reported that the Pegasus satellite had zoomed into orbit.

"We had an excellent flight," the spokesman reported.

The space craft was the last of three Pegasus space monsters designed to sweep the sky with a 96-foot wide wing to report on the hazards cosmic debris pose to moonships.

Three minutes after orbit was reached, the ground control center reported that the satellite's bat-like wings had unfolded as planned and began its hunt for meteoroids. The satellite was large enough to be visible from earth.

Unlike its predecessors, Pegasus III was equipped to take advantage of America's fast-paced man-in-space program.

It is coated with luminous paint to catch the eye of astronauts and carries 48 detachable panels that could be retrieved in a year or so to give man his first sample of metal punctured by meteoroids.

The 188-foot Saturn-1 thundered into life at 9 a.m. EDT and eased into the sky atop a brilliant plume of orange flame. It gained speed quickly, streaking toward space on the 1.5 million pounds of thrust from eight engines gulping three tons of fuel a second.

Two and a half minutes later, the six engines on the rocket's hydrogen - fueled second stage etook over and pushed the monstrous satellite toward orbit.

The shot cleared the deck for the next in the Saturn family—the more powerful Saturn-1B. It is expected to make its firts flight in January and could orbit a three-man Apollo spaceship before the end of 1966.

Saturn's 23,100-pound satellite was aimed toward a near circular orbital path 332 miles above earth — lower than the first two Pegasus dust detectors. Scientists estimated that after a year or so, its path would drop to within the reach of Gemini spacecraft.

to twelve weeks after muster in the case of priority Army guard and Army reserve units.

It was indicated that two or three first-line National Guard infantry divisions may be chosen for the special treatment.

There are four such divisions — the 26th of Massachusetts, the 28th of Pennsylvania, the 42nd of New York and the 30th of North Carolina.

Some of the eight priority infantry brigades in the Army selected to undergo increased readiness preparations.

Guard and reserve also may be

These eight are the 157th of Pennsylvania, the 187th of Massachusetts, the 191st of Montana and the 205th of Minnesota, all in the Reserve; the 29th of Hawaii, the 69th of Kansas, the 92nd of Puerto Rio and the 258th of Arizona, Virginia and Missouri, all in the guard.

Certain lesser supporting units also may be included.

Elements of the Air National Guard and the Air Reserve may be given additional attention to sharpen their readiness.

It is known that officials of the National Guard Bureau have proposed keeping Air Guard squadrons out of federal service until the 11th hour on grounds they are already in such shape that they can be used in less than 30 days from mobilization.

Most priority units are very close to their manpower ceilings which represent 80 per cent of their mobilization strength.

The additional 20 per cent would be drawn from the Army Reserve manpower pool. Officials said that to avoid delay in active duty training, the 30-man notification period after formal callup could be used to make certain that these rank-fillers would be with their units at the time of entry into federal service.

East Bay Mishap Hurts Marinite

Both legs of Otis L. Franks, 37, of 14 Prospect Lane, Corte Madera, were broken when he was hit by a car early today on Willow Pass Hill, on Highway 4 near Antioch.

Franks had stopped his eastbound car, pulling a trailer, at 4:20 a.m. and got out to investigate some trouble with the trailer when he was hit by another eastbound car driven by Carl Anderson, 51, of Mountain View, the California Highway Patrol reported.

San Anselmo Woman Injured In Smashup

Ida E. Pryal, 73, of 59 Brookside Avenue, San Anselmo, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after the car she was driving went off Shoreline Highway two miles north of Bolinas Wye at 7:50 p.m. yesterday.

Highway patrolmen reported the southbound car went onto the right shoulder of the road, hit a bank, crossed to the other side, went off the road and hit a tree. She suffered cuts on face and right arm.

Attorney General Planning Statewide Assessor Probe

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Creation of a task force of attorneys and auditors for a statewide investigation of possible falsification of property assessments was announced today by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch.

"The formation of this task force follows several days of meetings with district attorneys, officials of the State Board of Equalization, and Phillip Watson, Los Angeles County Assessor," Lynch said.

"They all urged this move when a pattern of apparently coordinated conduct among various counties became evident."

Lynch said newly discovered implications dictated an expanded role for the state in the inquiry.

Charles A. O'Brien, chief deputy attorney general named to head the task force, said there was too much scattered information around the state for any district attorney to handle.

Lynch said the tax consulting firm under investigation—J. C. Tooke and Associates—had more than 800 corporated accounts.

"Many of them are national firms," he said.

Lynch praised five district attorneys for their quick actions. He named J. Frank Coakley of Alameda County, John J. Ferdon of San Francisco, James Don Keller of San Diego, John Price of Sacramento, and Larry Drivon of San Joaquin.

The Internal Revenue Service also wants to check records in five filing cabinets taken from Tooke's Castro Valley offices by a former employee, Norman Phillips.

But Sheriff Frank I. Madigan of Alameda County, served with an IRS summons to produce the files, said Thursday he doesn't think he can.

The five filing cases, taken from Castro Valley tax consultant James C. Tooke, are said to contain evidence of a payoff scandal involving assessors' employes in seven counties.

So far the cases have remained under double lock in the county jail, with Sheriff Madigan puzzled to whom to surrender the key.

"Under court order," he said, "I can't take any action to disclose those records to anybody."

Superior Court Judge William J. McGuiness of Alameda County is to rule Monday on a request from one party wanting the records, Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley of Alameda County. He wants them on behalf of authorities from all seven involved counties.

is no proposal to subsidize Greyhound Bus Lines operation, he claimed. "There is a proposal to improve and rejuvenate under public operation and direction."

The proposal to have Marin residents pay a 25 per cent increase in auto license fees is part of a plan by Paul Fanning, former executive of the State Public Utilities Commission and Greyhound Bus Lines, for the Marin County Transit District to buy buses for Greyhound and either contract with Greyhound to operate them or pay part of Greyhound's deficit in Marin operations.

TRIP

port Beach their next stop will be La Paz, near the tip of Baja California in Mexico, where they will find a new member of the crew who will instruct the youngsters in Spanish.

Do they anticipate difficulty in finding people willing to take on tasks as divergent as teaching and serving on the crew of an ocean-going vessel? "No," Bailey said, "the problem really is sorting out the applications. There are always young sailors who would go on a trip like this."

From La Paz they will head out to sea toward Hawaii, and then to New Zealand. By then, they expect, the first year of their journey will be over and they will plan the second year. It may take them up the Red Sea or around the Cape of Good Hope to Spain, but Bailey isn't sure.

The voyagers are docked at Loch Lomond as a second thought, but they are quite happy about it. Bailey and McNiesh, a husky wrestler and football star in high school who will enter Oregon State University in the fall if he doesn't stay with the Baileys, brought the boat down the coast a month ago and tried to dock at Sausalito.

"There isn't a place to put a boat there, so we brought it over here because we heard it's a fine harbor—and it is, just an ideal place," the captain enthused.

Active in Republican politics in Portland, the Baileys are animated and intelligent conversationalists who enjoy bringing guests onto their water-founded home. They should prove engaging tourists wherever their wanderlust may lead them.

Johnson's decision to send more troops to South Viet Nam was "inevitable, but I deeply regret it." Communist China said "Johnson wept crocodile tears."

Wilson said the President's continued willingness to enter negotiations on the Viet Nam crisis was heartening to his government. "He repeated what we have been urging him to repeat," Wilson said. "There were doubts early this year."

"This is a war which is not going to be settled by military means. Anyone who thinks so is deceiving himself. I don't care who gets around the table as long as this ghastly war stops," Wilson said in a television interview.

The official Communist New China News Agency said the President's order sending 50,000 more U. S. troops to Viet Nam was "another serious step to escalate the war." His proposal for unconditional peace talks was a swindle to divert public attention from his "mad rush toward a wider war," the agency said.

"Johnson wept crocodile tears by saying he did not want to send American youth to die in South Viet Nam," Peking charged.

Moscow Radio called the President's decision a "colossal risk. It marked "the beginning of a new stage in the escalation of the war" that could reach a point "beyond which it is not possible to control events," Moscow Radio said.

Some European newspapers said the move would prolong the war. Others said it was necessary.

Youngsters Cited For Starting Fires

Three youngsters were cited by San Rafael police yesterday after they admitted starting two fires on the grass of play area of Vallecito School, 50 Nova Albion Way.

One of the fires was started by a 12-year-old boy and burned an area 50 by 150 feet. The other was started by two boys, 7 and 9 and burned 200 by 400 feet. The fires were 200 yards apart.

Landmarks Society Honors Botany Expert

John Thomas Howell, curator of botany of the California Academy of Sciences, was honored last night by members of the Belvedere - Tiburon Landmarks Society, who have actively supported purchase of the wildflower area in Tiburon which will be named after Howell.

The area around old St. Hilary's Church will be known as the John Thomas Howell Botanical Garden. Howell is author of the pamphlet "Marin Flora" and arranged for financing of writing of another pamphlet, "Flora of the Tiburon Peninsula."

Still No Report From House-Hunting Spouse

San Rafael police still had no news today about Earl Kirk, who told his wife Tuesday he would meet her the next day, but failed to say where.

The Kirks were looking for a house in Marin. Puzzled Mrs. Kirk is now at the home of a son in San Jose, waiting for word from her husband.

BOARD

upon properties which are the subject of equalization hearings. The interests of the board members, therefore, are against the applicants and their requests for reduction, he contended.

Supervisors also prepared the county budget and control the disbursement of taxes imposed on the applicants' properties, the affidavit continued. "Therefore, said board has a direct interest against granting such reductions as are requested by applicants."

Weinstein also charged the Marin County Supervisors with prejudice, basing this on comments made by supervisors at a public discussion June 28 before they started sitting as board of equalization.

Board members indicated they would give little weight to comparable property outside the present reappraisal zone when considering protests, he said.

The protests by Belvedere Lagoon property owners "are based upon such comparables outside the current reappraisal zone," and therefore their appeals are prejudiced, he said.

"I didn't think they could at that time (June 28) pass premature judgment on a case," Weinstein said.

Weinstein is slated to consolidate the 141 protests at a full-day hearing before the board next Wednesday.

If the board does not rule on his challenge by the start of the hearing, he will ask it for a ruling then, he said. If the challenge is ruled out, he will present his case under protest and prepare for court action, he declared.

"We will prove on the fourth that Marin County is not equalized," asserted Weinstein.

JOB

her a typewriter. She used to play jacks with other girls, but then "I got my typewriter and that was more fun."

Her first job came when she was 7. She helped her next-door neighbor in Nevada City by mowing the lawn, cleaning the house and doing dishes. Later, a grocer friend allowed her to put price tags on shelves.

Until this week, she has been helping her mother around the house. But she did such a good job that there hasn't been that much left to do. She got bored and, without any parental prodding, went out to look for a job.

Her first stop was at the employment office, where she reported seeing a few other youngsters her age. She could not say, however, whether the others were as eager to work as she, or whether any were seeking a secretary's job.

The employment people said the best they could do was get her a baby-sitting job, and even that, they said, was doubtful. Most such jobs go to teen-agers.

Velma, however, said she would be gfad to take what she can get.

"I like to work," she explained simply.

San Anselman Held On Hurling Charge

Craig Gerard Corwin, 32, was booked in Marin County jail late yesterday on a complaint charging he hurled a bottle of automobile tire cleaner at a passing motorist. He made $275 bail and is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Corwin, of 2 Carmel Way, San Anselmo, is accused of throwing the bottle and contents at Gregory Christopher Arata of 6 Marinda Court, Fairfax, last Sunday.

Sit-Ins Claim Bail Demands Hamper Fight

BERKELEY (AP) — Defendants in the University of California sit-in trial here say financial difficulties may prevent appeals of their convictions.

Many defendants convicted in last December's demonstration cannot afford the bail required to keep them out of jail while their cases are being appealed, said student leader Mrs. Susan Stein.

"If we continue posting bonds at the present rate we will be at least $30,000 in debt," Mrs. Stein told a rally on the Berkeley campus yesterday.

"There is a serious chance we may not be able to appeal at all," she said. Mrs. Stein is a leader of the Free Student Union, the successor to the free Speech Movement on the campus.

The defendants were convicted of trespassing, resisting arrest, or both in the Berkeley campus administration building sit-in the night of Dec. 2-3.

Among the proposal for solving the financial crisis:

1. A request by defense attorneys that the defendants be released on their own recognizance. The request was turned down by Municipal Judge Rupert Crittenden.

2. One defendant — David Goines, 19—went to jail to allow his lawyer to challenge his $550 bail in court. Goines was soon released when Judge Crittenden agreed to a 10-day delay before starting the sentence.

3. Prof. Thomas Parkinson of the university English department urged that the defendants be released "into custody of the faculty."

4. Speakers at the campus rally appealed for donations for the defendants' defense fund.

Judge Crittenden was due to resume sentencing this morning of the remaining defendants. To date he has sentenced 233 of the 653 he found guilty June 23.

Multiple Births Linked To New Fertility Drug

LONDON (AP) — Women in at least five countries are reported to have become pregnant after taking a fertility drug used by two women who gave birth to quintuplets this week. Multiple births appear likely in a number of the cases.

Four of the five quintuplets born yesterday to a Swedish woman died within a few hours. The survivor was a girl. The Swedish quints were 11 weeks premature and weighed between 2 pounds and 2 pounds 10 ounces. The mother's identity has not been announced.

The boy and four girls born three days ago to Mrs. Samuel Lawson in Auckland, New Zealand, were reported "just fine" today. They were seven weeks premature and weighed between 3 pounds 3 ounces and 4 pounds 3 ounces.

Both women had been given a pituitary hormone extract developed in Sweden and known in some countries as Gonadotrophin. Injected into the bloodstream, it aids some infertile women who normally are unable to produce an egg cell.

Several New Zealand women are pregnant after taking the treatment. Some have been told they may have more than one baby. But their doctors at National Women's Hospital do not expect more than triplets.

The hormone treatment also is being given to women in the United States, Britain and Australia.

An infertility clinic in New York reported that 15 of the 21 women treated have conceived, 7 had given birth so far, and 4 had multiple births. One, Mrs. Martin Brecker of New York, had quadruplets.

A similar ratio of multiple births was reported by the Swedish doctor who developed the treatment, Prof. Carl-Axel Gemzell, 54, of Uppsala University. He said 50 of 100 women he treated became pregnant and 25 gave birth to twins or triplets.

A Melbourne, Australia, doctor reported that he has been using the drug since April 1963. He said seven previously childless wives had conceived and two had twins.

A British experiment in the use of the drug is being conducted by Birmingham University's department of obstetrics and by the government-sponsored Medical Research Council. The department said it had treated 24 previously infertile women. Ten have had babies — twins in two cases — and six others are pregnant, it said.

The research council said one dose of the drug costs about $1,400, and the cost of the trials is borne by the council.

Tax Rate Cut By Sanitary Directors

A budget of $188,800 which will mean a 12.5 cent drop in the tax rate was adopted Wednesday by directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District.

The tax rate will be 50 cents, a drop from the 62.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the fiscal year just ended, Alfred O. Pratesi, district secretary, reported.

The budget is composed of $25,500 in the salaries category; $58,000, maintenance; $12,000, operation; $22,150, new equipment to increase the capacity of the Trestle Glen plant; $21,150, line replacement and construction; $50,000, reserves.

Of the budget total, $78,500 will be raised by taxes and $110,300 will come from connection charges and inspection fees. The assessed valuation of the district is $15,700,000, Pratesi said.

Consular Proposal Defended By Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Republican questioners today he thinks there is no reason for concern that the proposed consular convention with Russia would open flood gates for Soviet spying here.

The U.S.-Soviet pact "is advantageous to our national interest," Rusk said in testimony to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, because it would give protection to the thousands of Americans who visit Russia and because it would put business relations between the two countries on a smoother basis.

"We are satisfied," Rusk added, "that the convention would not materially affect this problem" of Communist espionage and sabotage.

The convention was signed a year ago, but the Johnson administration held off asking Senate approval until after last fall's election.

The agreement spells out procedures for handling tourists, business and other non - diplomatic matters. It would commit Russia to give U.S. officials prompt notice and access to Americans arrested in Russia, and vice versa. Consular officers of each side would get diplomatic immunity from prosecution.

Iowa's Sen. Bourke H. Hickenlooper, senior Republican on the committee, noted what he termed the "impressive list" of Soviet officials who had been expelled from this country for "improper activity" since World War II.

"I think, senator, that such cases will occur again," Rusk said. But the secretary of state noted that Russian embassy officials perform consulate duties at this time anyway, and he said he doubted that formalizing consular procedures would have much bearing on spying activity.

The granting of diplomatic immunity to consular officers is an innovation. On this point, Rusk said that the American and Russian legal systems are so different that the best way to allow consuls on both sides to proceed without harassment would be to free them from any local prosecution.

He agreed with Hickenlooper that a consular officer would be free from prosecution for murder or any other crime. The penalty by the host country would be to expel the offender, Rusk said. However, he noted diplomatic - consular officers have such immunity now.

In arguing for the treaty, Rusk said that some 12,000 Americans visited Russia last year compared with 204 Soviet tourists coming here. In the past, such as the case of the 1963 arrest of Yale professor Frederick Barghoorn, Americans have been held incommunicado until the Soviets decided to kick them out.

Under the treaty, he said, the Russians are to give notice of arrest within three days and permission to visit the prisoner within four days.

Rusk's attention was called to recent testimony before a House committee by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover that establishment of Soviet consulates in this country would "make our job more difficult."

Rusk said espionage "is a very special problem," and that he has "great confidence in the ability of the FBI to handle it."

The consular agreement, if ratified by a two-thirds majority of the Senate, would open the way for each country to seek establishment of consular offices in principal cities of the other.

Temblor Rocks Southern Coast

OXNARD (AP) — An earthquake described by police as "a real jolt" jarred the Ventura County communities of Oxnard, Camarillo, Somis and Port Hueneme at approximately 8 o'clock last night.

There were no reports of serious damage. Police said, however, that burglar alarms were set off in some parts of Oxnard and a few power lines were snapped.

The University of California seismological laboratory said the quake was not severe enough to be recorded in Berkeley.

Falconry is the oldest field sport of which there is any record. It is believed that falconry was known in China approximately 4,000 years ago.

INDIAN IKE ON PALEFACE WARPATH

LAC DU FLAMBEAU, Wis. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower as a member of the Chippewa Indian tribe is ready for the warpath.

"Now that I'm a full-fledged member of the Chippewa tribe and, I hope, one of its warriors, I thing we ought to do something about the paleface," Eisenhower said at a Lake Superior band pow wow Thursday.

"The first thing I thought about was to drive them back to the Atlantic Ocean, but there are a lot of them. So why not adopt them all into the tribe, then the Chippewas can run the entire nation."

The Indains presented him with an assortment of gifts, including mink-lined golf tees.

Brown Says LBJ Would Journey To Gain Peace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Brown said today he believes President Johnson would go personally to Viet Nam to end the war there.

"I believe, because of his determination to find a peaceful solution, that he would go anywhere in the world to bring peace with honor," Brown said.

"I want to stress this is my opinion."

Brown held a news conference after returning from Washington. The President briefed governors yesterday on the situation in Viet Nam.

"The President didn't say directly he would go, but I got that feeling," Brown said.

Plan Study Delayed

'Burglary To Order' Gang Is Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thirteen suspected members of a "burglary to order" gang were arrested last night in the biggest San Francisco roundup in years.

Police Inspector Nate Pedrini said the burglary gang, distinguished by a taste for high living, stole appliances, jewelry, furs and clothing valued "way up in the thousands."

The roundup started with arrest of two ex-convicts suspected as ringleaders—David W. Hinkle and William Stephens—and their wives in their Mission District apartments.

Pedrini said loot found in the Hinkle apartment included three fur jackets worth at least $7,300, 12 men's suits worth $150 each, hi-fi equipment and appliances. Similar goods was found in the Stephens' apartment.

Hinkle, 31, is an ex - convict from Walla Walla Prison, Wash. where he served time for burglary; and Stephens, 30, a former San Quentin prisoner for burglary and narcotics law violations.

They and their wives were charged with conspiracy and receiving stolen property.

Pedrini said they took orders for items wanted by persons interested in buying stolen goods. Then the ringleaders had burglars steal the articles and deliver them.

The inspector said they paid the actual burglars 15 cents on the dollar valuation and charged customers 40 cents on the dollar.

With the alleged ringleaders in jail, police arrested nine suspected burglars.

Red China Bomb Worries Geneva

GENEVA (UPI)—Communist China probably will explode its third nuclear device soon, a ranking official of the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference warned today.

The threat of rapid Chinese atomic progress was cited in support of Western demands that the conference begin urgent negotiations aimed at halting the spread of nuclear weapons.

Both President Johnson and Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain have appealed to the conference to give the issue top priority. Italy joined their call yesterday.

Lord Chalfont, Britain's chief negotiator, warned that the current disarmament session is "the last chance" for agreement.

Cascade Annex Again On Agenda

The Mill Valley City Council will be requested to annex 60.8 acres in the Cascade area to the city at an 8 p.m. meeting Monday in city hall.

The annexation, requested by City Mgr. Bert Balmer, is residential area south of Cascade Drive, west of Monte Vista Avenue and, at points, touches Panoramic Highway.

The same annexation was proposed about three years ago but did not materialize due to property owners protests. Ninety per cent of the property is owned by Maurice Capps of San Francisco.

Councilmen will not discuss the proposed $12 per year business license hike, as previously scheduled, this being put over to Aug. 16 to give the council subcommittee more time to consider.

The annexation application has been filed with the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, but is not scheduled for hearing until Aug. 26 or later, depending on when the processing of the map and other data is completed.

Mayor Proves Sturdy Scholar

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP) — Gene Gooding became mayor of Russells Point before he graduated from high school.

Gooding quit school to join the Navy in 1942, serving three and a half years on PT boats in the Pacific. He was elected mayor in 1959 and, deciding he couldn't preach education to his four children without making the effort himself, he returned to finish high school.

Now in his third term as mayor, Gooding attends Ohio Northern University during the winter and hopes eventually to teach physical education.

Big Hitchhiker Gives Unwanted Thrill In Car

MANILA (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force enlisted men ran over a snake. They stopped their car and went back to look for the reptile, but in vain. Then they continued on back to Clark Air Base, a distance of about 50 miles.

The next morning the car's owner, Sgt. George Thomas, heard a noise under the hood when he started the engine.

He opened the hood and found a 10-foot-long python coiled around the engine block.

Thomas drove to an air police station, where the snake was pulled out and killed.

In strawberry season, box turtles gorging on fresh fruit often become so fat that they cannot close their shells.

Two Women Tell Of Knife Threat, Airman Questioned

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman was questioned early today in connection with an alleged threat against two women in the Women's room of a San Rafael night spot.

San Rafael police said the threat was reported by Sandra Lee Dudek of 34 Bayview Street, San Rafael, and Phyllis J. Mann of 90 Spruce Road, Fairfax.

They told officers a man they did not know made a flippant remark when they entered the Bermuda Palms, 737 Francisco Boulevard. He then followed them into the rest room, they said, where he told them, "Stay four feet away from me or I'll cut your faces up and your gut out."

He held his hand behind his hip as though brandishing a knife, but the women said they saw none.

Returning to the bar, they complained to bartender John Whitworth, who stopped the man and "frisked" him but found no knife.

Police traced the car in which the man and four companions drove away. The airman questioned said he merely gave the four others a "lift to San Rafael.

Bay Counties Get Two More State Colleges

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges has approved four new sites for state colleges.

The board brought the total number of state colleges in t system to 22 Thursday by approving sites in Ventura, Kern, Contra Costa and either San Mateo or Santa Clara counties.

All four colleges will open their doors for the 1969 - 70 school year. The new sites were authorized by the legislature at its last session.

Approximately 10,200 students will attend the Kern county's college while the other three will accomodate about 19,000 each.

In additional action Thursday the trustees voted a $58.9 million capital outlay budget for for 1966 - 67 state colleges. The largest allocations were $31 million for classrooms, science buildings and libraries, $10 million for equipment and $8.1 million for land acquisition.

San Jose State received the largest allocation, $9,106,400.

The budget must be approved by the state Department of Finance, which has trimmed similar requests about 15 per cent each of the last two years.

The board deferred for further study proposed salary increases for faculty members of the California state colleges. Trustees voted to act on the proposed 10 per cent increases at their September meeting.

Architect Charles Luckman of Los Angeles stepped down from his two-year term as chairman. He was replaced by Albert J. Ruffo, 57, a San Jose attorney who served as vice chairman of the board for the past two years.

Northeast Drought Gets Intense Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall says more than 100 investigations into water problems in the drought-plagued Northeast have been started since July 1.

Udall said yesterday most of the studies are being done by universities with federal support. He said more than $1 million in federal funds was involved.

Indians Demand Job Equality In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Representatives of the "forgotten minorities" met with Bay Area industrial leaders yesterday in an attempt to increase job opportunities for their people.

A spokesman for the American Indian Council said Indians would "soon go out on the street, just like the American Negro" unless more job opportunities are provided.

Richard McKenzie, a member of the Sioux tribe, made his statement at a Bay Area minorities affirmative action conference at the University of San Francisco. The conference was presided over by Ray L. Wilbur Jr., vice-president of the Hewlett-Packard Company of Palo Alto.

"The American Indian is fast losing the hope that has maintained him in the past," McKenzie said.

He estimated at least half of the 17,000 Indians in the Bay Area are unemployed.

He also criticized the Bureau of Indian Affairs for moving Indians into the area with job promises when work was only temporary.

Herman Gallegos, director of the Youth Opportunity Center at Hunters Point, said..."When employers think of minority groups they think first of Negroes."

"But other minority groups have the same problems in employment. Our aim is to make personnel managers aware of their needs."

Alex A. Esclamado, representing the area's Filipinos, said his people were objects of job discrimination. He also charged that Gov. Edmund G. Brown has failed to appoint Filipinos to state jobs.

County Asks Army Permit To Dredge Gallinas Creek

The Marin County Public Works Department has applied for a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers to dredge a 2.5-mile stretch of the south fork of Gallinas Creek from San Pablo Bay to the county fairgrounds.

The proposed channel would be six feet deep and 75-feet wide, and would require the dredging of 510,000 cubic yards of material.

The dredging, estimated to cost $150,000, will be paid by an assessment district including property along the creek.

The county proposes to deposit the dredged material at three county-owned sites: two along the creek shore and one at the fairgrounds.

The Army Corps of Engineers reported that the deadline for objections to the project on navigational grounds is Aug. 28. They may be sent to the district engineer's office, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco.

Police Warning On Money Orders

Belvedere police today warned Marin merchants to be on the lookout for anyone passing personal money orders drawn on the Central Valley National Bank in Oakland. The money orders may be stolen.

A money order for $125 was passed July 20 at Antone Jeweler's at the boardwalk shopping center in Belvedere and has just been returned from the bank with a notation that it was stolen, Belvedere Police Chief William H. Woodington reported.

The check was one of 27 blank money orders stolen from a San Francisco store in June, all drawn on the Central Valley National Bank in Oakland. Woodington said another of the money orders was passed recently in San Francisco.

Driver Fined $276

Erwin Bernard Wiegandt, 24, of Hilarita Housing Project, Tiburon, was fined $276 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving last July 19. California Highway Patrol arrested him on Highway 101.

Driver Says Hitchhikers Robbed Him

Marin County sheriff's officers today said they will investigate a report by a 32-year-old San Francisco motorist that he was robbed and knocked unconscious last Saturday by two hitchhikers on Highway 101 at Waldo Grade.

Richard A. James reported the robbery the following day to San Francisco police, who mailed a report to the Marin sheriff's office.

James said he picked up the men—both about 30 years old—on Highway 101 near Marin City. He said at the top of Waldo Grade one of them shoved some instrument against his ribs and ordered him to pull to the highway's right shoulder.

He was then struck on the head and knocked unconscious, he said. According to James when he regained consciousness in the car, he discovered he had been robbed of $80.

He reported the robbery in San Francisco, but today he did not plan to also make a report in Marin County. Undersheriff Eugene Meyer said an inspector will question James.

Steel Issue Eyed By White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz discussed steel industry labor negotiations today as a new deadline for a possible strike call approached.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said he could give no details except that Wirtz reported to the President on negotiations which have been proceeding in Pittsburgh under a temporary strike truce.

Informed sources have said there has been little progress in the bargaining.

The wage policy committee of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union was scheduled to decide in Pittsburgh today whether to issue strike notices to some 10 major steel firms.

Three Hamilton Runaways In Nevada Police Custody

Three runaway Hamilton Air Force Base teen-age boys were apprehended yesterday in Wells, Nev., and held at Elko, Nev., for their parents, air police at the base reported today.

The three took a white 1963 Cadillac belonging to Lt. Col. Alfred P. Mallett of 232 Oakwood Drive and left Hamilton about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The three are Peter Mallet, 15, son of Colonel Mallet; Charles Ralph Harper Jr., 15, son of S/Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Harper of 100 Randolph Drive, and Michael McDonough, 16, son of SM/Sgt. and Mrs. Paul F. McDonough of 182 East Kelly Drive.

Helpful Neighbor Just Frosts Him

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bobby Joe Crabtree was a bit provoked when a passerby summoned firemen to extinguish a blaze in his yard.

For three days he'd tried to thaw his water pipes. As a last resort he built a trash fire around exposed pipes on the outside.

When the firemen left, the pipes froze again. Crabtree had to build another fire.

Pearl Bailey In Hospital Again

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Singer Pearl Bailey, who has a history of heart trouble, collapsed and was hospitalized early today after completing two shows at a suburban night club.

Miss Bailey, 47, was rushed by ambulance from the Royal Tahitian in Ontario to Mt. Sinai Hospital here.

The nature of the collapse and her present condition were not immediately available.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Edgewater Inn's Courtyard Pool Relaxing During Summer

The Edgewater Inn courtyard and swimming pool make a relaxing and pleasing summery scene for a window table in the dining room of Bob's of Marin these days, and it is new manager Larry Bochino's avowed intent to create a warm, friendly atmosphere here to go with it.

All this and stepped up service are calculated to bring back the luncheoners and diners for more than one visit.

Larry took over management at Bob's about 10 days ago. He has been a Mill Valley resident for years and is well known in Marin food and restaurant circles. For the past year or so he has been at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco. General management of all Bob's restaurants here and in San Francisco still remains with Ernie Pinnella, who has also given much of his time to Marin in the past.

NEW DINING ROOM menu has several featured attractions. Shish kebab en brochette with pilaf is one of them, flambe'd in the approved manner—and I see that chef Suey Fong, who is certainly one of the best natured kitchen executives I've seen, has also sneaked in his chicken sesame Indonesia. Allow about 15 minutes for either of these to be prepared right.

And if you like a steak, but don't care to be confronted with a full pound of beef, yon can start from eight ounces on up: As a matter of fact, if you don't see what you want on the menu —ask for it. There is no house ordinance against it and you may just wind up with an old-time favorite.

Yes, the main dining room has taken on new importance here —which is the way it should be. In the past it was subordinated a great deal to the coffee shop. Waiter Xavier Paez and two waitresses give special table treatment.

One of Larry's specialties is banquets — and in particular, wedding parties. Feel free to consult him — he can probably help you. There's plenty of room at Bob's for these affairs and it's centrally located.

IF THE DANCE MUSIC at the Redwood Club, atop the Kaehler - Farrar Building, San Rafael, seems to have more roll than swing, look more closely at the orchestra leader and you'll understand.

It's Bill Muggenthaler, home from two months playing on the Lurline and the Monterey, where every third beat is picked up by the waves. He plays on Friday and Saturday nights.

ALFRED ROBLIN, chef and partner in Ondine, Sausalito, has returned from a six-week trip in Europe, spent mostly in France and England, and in due course it's likely some of his new food experiences there will rub off on the Ondine menu. No telling at this point what he has in mind.

Alfred is one Frenchman who seems to have made the trip back to his homeland without disappointment. Probably because he has that happy faculty of being able to adjust himself quickly to his environment—and of not expecting Europe to have all of America's conveniences.

He does give aces and spades to service in U. S. restaurants, which he says is generally far better than what you'll get abroad—but regards as the ne plus ultra in cooking those dishes in out of the way places which only a native Frenchman seems able to track down.

On this subject and on some of the regional wines and wineries he has made copious notes. When they are assembled one day they should make good reading for the aficionados of gourmanderie.

YOU MAY NOT SEE Angelo Sabello at his restaurant much these days, but when you do, it's evident that he's dropped a few pounds and is more relaxed. That comes from turning most of the work over to Lou, so he can spend more time on his boat catching fish than serving them.

BILL McCOY will be featured organist at Lin Fa Gardens in the Northgate Center, starting next Tuesday. He'll play Tuesday through Saturday evenings in the lounge. Bill is a headliner at both the electronic keyboard and on pipe organ. He should be here pretty regularly for awhile, though he may have to take off occasionally on a Baldwin assignment.

LARRY BOCHINO
New manager at Bob's

FIVE YEARS AGO THIS MONTH — remember. Ramona introduced her "taquitos" at the Marin Art and Garden Show at the Kiwanis Club booth. They've been popular as hors d'oeuvres and snacks ever since—smalled rolled tacos with a meat filling and a guacamole sauce . . . It was about the same time that the Comstock Players from Virginia City opened at the old Wye Club (formerly Hamie's) in "Ten Nights in a Bar Room."

Banjo player Doug Pusker came over from the Gold Street in San Francisco to add to the atmosphere . . . Those were the days when Leo and Pat Cramer had the Music Box in the West End district of San Rafael, with "Mac the Knife" tending bar. And the Franchinis had put their name in front of the old West End Villa (now the prefix is Bill and Adolph's) . . . I seem to remember then, too, when one of Gwen Stone's popular abstract paintings disappeared from the walls at Rubini's and everyone assumed it had been sold. But it was removed for presentation (and was accepted) for the California State Fair exhibit in Sacramento . . . And Main Street, Tiburon was breezed with rumors that Sam Vella was going to give up his famous Sam's Anchor Cafe and retire for good. And shortly thereafter he did.

WORD FROM JOE MOYLE at Lagunitas Lodge is that he's discontinuing lunches, but may pick them up again after the San Geronimo golf course opens. For dinners he opens weekdays from 6 p.m. to midnight (but closed Tuesdays); Sundays from 4 to 10 or thereabouts.

And he's now serving oysters Rockefeller on the menu.

LAST MINUTE ANNOUNCEMENT. As this was going to press, Bill Bisson phoned me that Bill and Adolph's West End Villa at Second and G streets, San Rafael, will open Tuesday night for dinner.

Take a chance, if you like, on getting a table next Tuesday night, but I'd recommend making a reservation. It's listed in the telephone book.

NEW DINERY COMPLETED — Menu in hand, Bill Bisson, manager and co-owner of Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, poses in the plush dining room of the restaurant which he and his partner Adolph Motta will open Tuesday night. West End Villa, a San Rafael landmark, has been enlarged and completely remodeled to include lavishly decorated lounge and party rooms and a garden patio for "al fresco" service. Griffith, now chief deputy controller for the State of California, is author of "Humphrey: A Candid Biography." He discussed his experiences with Hubert Humphrey and the vice president's relationship with President Johnson.

Griffith described his present boss, State Controller Alan Cranston, as a man with the same type of integrity as Vice President Humphrey.

The Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, headed by Thomas A. Skornia, sponsored the talk.

Governors Oppose Redistrict Ruling

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) —At least half of the nation's governors favor a constitutional amendment to overturn the Supreme Court's one-man, one vote mandate for apportionment of state legislatures, a UPI survey indicated today.

But a number of those endorsing the amendment indicated that they felt the cause had become hopeless. A two-thirds vote of the House and Senate and approval by 38 of the state legislatures are needed to write the amendment into the Constitution.

A survey which reached 48 of the state executives attending the annual governors conference this week showed 20 giving relatively unhedged endorsements to the proposed amendment. Five others gave variously qualified "yes, but" replies.

Eight governors opposed the amendment and 15 declined to take a stand.

The proposed amendment, sponsored by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, is now before the Senate. It would permit one House of a legislature to be apportioned with weight given to factors other than population.

Although some of the governors held strong pro or con views on the Dirksen amendment, it was given only occasional mention during the conference.

The proposal was endorsed by the 1964 Republican platform and ignored by the Democratic platform, but the governors' lineup did not follow party lines. The 20 backing the amendment, 11 Democrats and nine Republicans.

REMAPPING SHOWDOWN NEXT WEEK?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A constitutional amendment to allow states latitude in apportioning one house of their legislatures may come up for a vote next week in the Senate.

Backers and opponents have been seeking votes since Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois brought up the measure a week ago.

Aimed at the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision that legislative apportionment must be based on population, the proposed amendment would allow consideration of other factors in apportioning one house.

Long Planner Agenda Includes Marincello

The Marin County Planning Commission, which has been conducting marathon sessions recently, will face another heavy agenda Monday, including a revised master plan for Marincello.

The revised plan submitted by Frouge Corp., which plans to develop Marincello, meets the county density limit of 3.5 dwelling units per acre. Instead of a population of 31,000 on the 2,100 acres west of Sausalito, Frouge now proposes a population of 20,000.

Frouge reduced the number of high-rise apartment buildings from 51 to 19, and eliminated auditorium, stadium, museum, library, hospital, golf course and high school site that were in the original plan.

The commission convenes at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, but the Marincello plan is item 15 on the agenda.

Commissioners will continue their hearing on the long-delayed master plan for parks and recreation, which was revised after approval by the parks and recreation commission several months ago. The plan is item seven on the agenda.

Amendments to the ordinance covering substandard, non-conforming lots, which were requested by county supervisors, will be dismissed as item six.

Commissioners also will conduct a hearing on an amendment to the open area zoning ordinance allowing uses that would comply with the needs of the public agency that owns the land. This was requested by the Bolinas Harbor District in connection with open area zoning proposed for Bolinas Lagoon. It is number four on the agenda.

Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club seeks a permit to develop a recreational facility including tennis courts, baseball diamond swimming pool, picnic areas and a meeting hall on a 10-acre site, on the west side of Tennessee Valley Road. This is the first item on the agenda.

Among other items is a tentative map of a proposed industrial park on a 41-acre site between the Marin County Airport and Highway 101, north of Novato. The map was filed by Rancho del Pantano Inc.

Mill Valley Arts Festival Announced For October

The Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival will be held in Old Mill Park on Oct. 9 and 10 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., general chairman Florence Packard announced today.

The sixth annual festival will feature graphic art displays, and professional music and dance groups, she said.

The festival is already assured of entertainment by the Marin County Folk Dancers and the Dick Ford Dancers, she reported.

Paula Hooper has been named treasurer of the festival; Paul Thompson, ground-planning chairman; Jack Little, booth rental chairman, and Allan Hayakawa, entertainment chairman, all from Mill Valley.

Carl Broderick of Novato was appointed art chairman; Katherine Robson of Corte Madera, publicity and program chairman, and Velma Cleasby of Corte Madera, panel and space chairman.

Tahoe Studies Superdistrict For Sewage Export

TAHOE CITY (AP) — California and Nevada health officials heard a proposal yesterday to create a $20 million sewage treatment and exportation system to serve nearly half of Lake Tahoe's shoreline.

The proposed system, outlined by Don Anderson of Engineering Science Inc., would stretch fro Rubicon Point, midway between Emerald Bay and Meeks Bay on the west shore of the lake, to Crystal Bay, Nev. at the north state line.

The system, which would require a compact between the two states, would also treat and export sewage from Truckee, Donner Lake and Squaw Valley.

Anderson said public utility districts at Tahoe City, North Tahoe and Truckee could take the initial steps toward creating the super agency. Each district would be eligible for up to $600,000 in federal funds for the project, he said.

Election Video Spending Tallied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic candidates outspent their Republican opponents last year for radio-television time, but Republicans spent more on the presidential race.

Statistics published yesterday by the Federal Communications Commission showed that the Democrats spent $17.8 million to $15.9 million for the Republicans and less than $1 million for others.

In the presidential race, however, supports of GOP candidate Barry Goldwater spent $6.5 million while backers of President Johnson paid out $4.6 million.

Mental Hospital Shifts Announced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The current head of Atascadero State Hospital, Dr. G. Lee Sandritter, will take over as superintendent of Agnews State Hospital Aug. 30.

The announcement yesterday noted that Agnews' current chief, Dr. Walter Rapaport, reaches the mandatory retirement age of 70 soon.

Dr. Sterling Morgan will take over as head of Atascadero on an interim basis. He is associate superintendent there.

Smoking Banned For Jailed Youth

SONORA (UPI) — A cautious judge has ordered an end to cigarette smoking among juvenile inmates of Tuolumne County Jail.

Superior Judge Ross A. Carkeet said yesterday: "It is now recognized that smoking may contribute to development of lung cancer. If smoking is continued...the county may be subjected to a lawsuit."

The order also noted that there was a state law against persons under 18 using tobacco.

Jailer Jack Litteral said he only had permitted the youths to smoke when their parents supplied the cigarettes.

Family Pickets To Keep Child

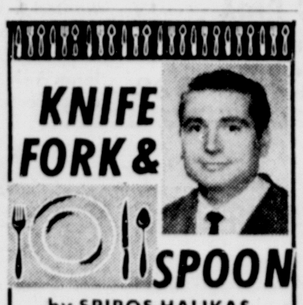
MARTINEZ (AP) — Eight members of a Martinez family picketed at Contra Costa Courthouse yesterday with signs of "We Want Tommy Back."

Tommy is the ninth member of the Roger V. Maes family, but has been living with an aunt as a court ward for four years. Maes, 29, is an unemployed steam fitter.

"We have six children at home, why not one more?" read a sign carried by Mrs. Maes.

The father faces a ruling next Thursday on a contempt charge for taking Tommy from the aunt's house last Monday without permission.

The voracious grasshopper that torments farmers is the same species of desert locust (Schistocerca gregaria) that devastated Egypt in Biblical times. The terrible plague of locusts left the land of the Pharaohs without "any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field."



Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for *every*body.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

Former Castro Aide Escapes To Freedom On Small Raft

Luis Casas Martinez, delirious, sun - blistered, bearded and dehydrated from drifting in the Gulf, wept as he stepped off the sloop Skeezix III and staggered into the waiting arms of his sister and uncle.

A retired New York fireman rescued Casas from a tiny raft yesterday about 36 miles out from Miami.

The 34-year-old governor of Camaguey Province from 1959 to 1960 had an "X" circled by small dots tattooed over his heart. He wore a Roman Catholic rosary and crucifix.

The "X," Casas said, marked the spot where he was to have been shot for plotting the overthrow of the Communist regime of Fidel Castro.

Casas owes his life to Thomas Miller, who retired in 1962 from the Jamaica. Queens, fire engine company 299 to fulfill a life - long dream of sailing around the Bahamas and Caribbean with his wife, Laura.

The Millers were about 21 miles off Gun Cay in the Bahamas around noon yesterday when they spotted Casas on a four - by - four foot raft made of innertubes and scrap lumber.

"He was delirious and nearly incoherent when we took him aboard," Miller said. "He told us he was about to abandon the raft and try to swim to Miami.

"He didn't know Miami was 36 miles from the point we picked him up."

Casas, a lawyer, was appointed governor of Camaguey Province by Castro in 1959.

Miller said Casas told him in broken English that he had been sent to the Guanahacabibes prison in Pinar Del Rio to face a firing squad, but had delayed his execution by telling prison officials he wanted to be rehabilitated.

"He said while they tried to indoctrinate him, he waited until he spotted his chance to make a break," Miller said.

Firemen Blocked; Baby Boy, 2, Dies

DALLAS (UPI) — Police fought with a "threatening" crowd of spectators last night that blocked firemen's efforts to revive a two-year old boy rescued from a burning house in South Dallas.

The child was dead by the time an ambulance got through.

The Negro crowd, which swelled to perhaps 700 persons, pressed in so close, police said, that they could not bring in a resuscitator or an ambulance.

Police asked them to move back but they would not move.

Finally policeman J.F. Dahman and four other officers began pushing the spectators back.

She clawed Dahman with her fingernails and tore his uniform.

"Don't let the cops get away with it," someone shouted.

Two youths, aged 18 and 19 sprang to her aid and jumped on Dahman and another officer.

Several Negroes began chanting "Kill them! Kill them!"

Officer R.J. Schackelford ran to help but was hit on the head and fell to the ground.

Police called for reinforcements and seven carloads of officers rushed to the neighborhood, a low-income Negro neighborhood nearly a mile from downtown Dallas. Police dogs were summoned but none was used.

Firemen said the child, Patrick Chambers, was believed to have died of smoke inhalation but an autopsy was ordered.

One officer said some of the crowd was "ugly and threatening from the first."

"If your police want trouble, they've come to the right place," a Fire Department spokesman quoted one youth as saying. "We'll take care of you, too."

The Negro boy's mother, Mrs. Geneva Chambers, 31, and a neighbor, Mrs. Jessie Jones, 27, fained. They were hospitalized in shock.

Both officers attacked were beaten, scratched and roughed up and their uniforms were ripped.

The disturbance was in an area of Dallas where a crowd of 400 persons threatened two policemen a year ago.

Experts Disagree On Dominican

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and Jack Hood Vaughan, assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, yesterday registered diverging views on hopes for a compromise government in the Dominican Republic.

Vaughan said after a session with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he hoped compromise attempts would bear fruit "within the coming weeks."

But Fulbright, the committee's chairman, said there had been no developments indicating there would be a quick solution. "If you're not optimistic, you just give up," he said.

Marshall Gains First Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Judiciary subcommittee has given unanimous approval to President Johnson's nomination of Thurgood Marshall as U.S. solicitor general.

Marshall, currently a U.S. circuit judge, said during 20 minutes of testimony yesterday that he would represent the government fairly and impartially in arguing cases for it in the Supreme Court.

Marshall, the first Negro named solicitor general, served for many years as chief counsel of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Suspended Officer Plans Demonstration

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Michael B. Hannon, suspended from the police force for misconduct after taking part in civil rights demonstrations, prepared today to take part in another demonstration — one protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

As Hannon's attorneys announced yesterday that they were filing a petition for rehearing of his case before a departmental board of rights, Hannon announced he would be featured speaker Saturday at a rally on the steps of the Los Angeles Federal Building.

Hannon, 28 and a 7-year veteran of the force, was suspended by Police Chief William Parker for six months. The board of rights, which found him guilty on nine charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, had recommended he be fired.

A. L. Wirin, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, which represented Hannon at the hearing, said the petition is necessary to prepare the way for filing of a court suit.

Parker, who was presented with the petition, immediately replied that Hannon lacks sufficient legal grounds to reopen the hearing.

Hannon has said he will fight the suspension as high as the federal courts, if necessary.

Riot Police Charge Into Jeering Strikers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Special riot police armed with nightsticks made two charges into a group of jeering, rock-throwing strikers this morning at the Harvey Aluminum Co. plant in suburban Torrance.

One person was injured and two others were arrested in the early morning melee, police said.

It was the second day in a row that violence has erupted at the plant, where the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union has been on strike since April 4.

Officers said the first charge into the crowd of 200 came after a bottle of paint was thrown at policemen.

Later, as 400 workers were being escorted to their cars, 75 riot - policemen again charged when they said the crowd began jeering and throwing rocks and other objects at officers and workers.

Following the rush, police said a light rain began to fall and the group dispersed.

Officers said a crowd of 600 to 800 strikers and workers clashed in a brick-throwing battle yesterday that required 160 officers to restore order.

In that half-hour melee, two policemen and two civilians were slightly injured.

Union spokesmen said the violence was sparked by the firm's "stalling tactics" in reviewing a labor agreement proposal submitted to the company last week.

A Harvey spokesman said the company was studying the proposal but said "it is difficult when you have riots."

Harvey is the nation's fourth largest producer of aluminum.

DeGaulle Slaying Attempt Punished

PARIS (UPI) — The state security court yesterday sentenced a former French army officer to 15 years in prison for his part in an attempt to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle.

The convict, Lt. Louis de Conde, 26, was a member of a 15-member team which tried to kill De Gaulle on Aug. 22, 1962, at nearby Petit Clamart. All but two were arrested.

Three men were sentenced to death and one has been executed.

The gang, armed with submachineguns and grenades, fired on De Gaulle's car as he and his wife were driving to an airport near Paris. Several bullets hit the car, but no one was injured.

Scientists Find Mars Like Moon

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The informal consensus among a group of conventioning U. S. scientists is that the planet Mars looks like a big brother of earth's moon.

Formal theories to account for this somewhat baffling turn of events can be expected at a series of scientific meetings later this year.

Some 3,300 scientists and technicians attending the annual meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics yesterday conducted an admiring inspection of the Mariner-4 space camera's close - up snapshots of Mars shortly after President Johnson unveiled them in a special White House showing.

The pictures, said rocket ace Wernher von Braun, "raised more new questions than they produced answers."

To get better interplanetary answers, Von Braun suggested dispatching a three - man team on a "fly-by" mission past the red planet in 1978.

The Saturn-5 super - rocket and Apollo spaceship the United States is building to land the first man on the moon in 1969 are "virtually laying the groundwork for interplanetary exploration," Von Braun sand.

If an actual manned landing on Mars could be attempted in 1982, as the former German V-2 rocket expert proposed, the astronauts might find the planet remarkably similar to the moon — only bigger.

From the pictures taken by marvelous Mariner-4 within 10,500 miles of Mars on July 14, the planet's surface "looks an awful lot like the moon," said Simon Ramo, vice chairman of the board of TRW Inc.

Indeed it does. The Mariner-4 photographs showed a planet pock-marked with scores of craters, less spectacular indentations resembling valleys, whitish smears that could be clouds and knoblike formations that could be large rocks — but no "canals."

The "canals" are the mysterious lines that astronomers in the last 88 years have reported spotting off and on. But, said Abe M. Zarem, president of Electro - Optical Systems Inc., "I don't see any evidence of the canals I was supposed to see."

Governors Elect New Englander In Stormy Vote

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The National Governors Conference installed GOP Gov. John H. Reed of Maine as its new chairman yesterday in a 22-20 vote that cut across party lines.

Republicans had opposed the selection of Reed because of their previous agreements on Govs. John A. Love of Colorado and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon as their caucus nominees. The GOP got help from southern and some other Democrats in a vote that climaxed a stormy session.

The chairmanship is alternated between the political parties every two years.

Hatfield said his criticism of President Johnson's course in Viet Nam evidently worked against his choice for the chairmanship.

Reed has given all out support to Johnson's escalation of U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam and the general course Johnson has been following in Southeast Asia. Love also has supported the President.

Richardson Bay Three-car Crash Hospitalizes Three

Three persons were severely injured in a high-speed, three-car collision on the Richardson Bay Bridge at 2:15 a.m. today.

Joan C. Keeler, 36, of 2 Golden Hinde Passage, Corte Madera, driver of one car, was in poor condition in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital with injury to her left eye, facial fractures, fractured right arm and multiple cuts and bruises.

A passenger in her car, Robert Menke, 45, of 136 Fernwood Drive, San Rafael, was in fair condition with multiple facial cuts, and scrapes and bruises of his body.

The third driver, Dr. Frederick Gordon Dunn, 44, of 1125 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, suffered a cut lip and sprained ankle, was treated and released from the hospital.

Highway patrolmen reported the accident began when the Aube car apparently ran out of gasoline on the bridge and stopped in the slow lane.

The Keeler car slammed into the Aube car, apparently before the driver had a chance to touch the brakes, highway patrolmen said.

The Aube car was shoved into the bridge rail, still blocking the slow lane, while the Keeler car bounced across the three highway lanes and stopped against the center guard rail.

Dunn saw the car in the slow lane, swerved to avoid it, and hit the Keeler car.

Terra Linda Directors Bolster Policing Budget, Rap Vandalism

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District tripled the district's police budget from$ 1,000 to $3,000 last night to cope with teen-age vandalism at the recreation center.

After boosting the police budget, directors adopted a budget of $47,000 for fiscal 1966, an increase of $8,000 over fiscal 1965.

The new budget will raise the tax from 71 cents per $100 assessed valuation to somewhere between 84 and 86 cents, depending upon assessed valuation of the district, Director Richard Less said.

The police funds will be used to provide private guards to patrol the recreation center, which has been under curfew since a rash of vandalism, a burglary and an attack on a girl lifeguard.

Chairman Melvin Warenback noted that the district had $1,000 in its 1965 budget for police protection "and didn't spend a cent." The last time the police budget was tapped, it was for a crossing guard, he said.

"We want the streets safe and property protected, "Warenback said.

Director Sesto Lucchi noted that although directors had increased the police budget, they had "no formal plan to alleviate the problem."

Warenback then appointed Lucchi and David Bettel of 675 Barberry Lane as committee to study a possible preventative program.

Bettell, one of the two residents who attended the budget session, suggested a program "directed toward getting socially acceptable behavior from these kids."

Less said that the teen-agers involved in vandalism represent only "10, 12 or 20 families."

To the teen-agers who are guilty, the guards "are just one more challenge," Warenback said. "Now, they are finding out which are the 'good' guards and which are the 'bad' guards."

Directors also discussed informing residents what they should do if they witness vandalism.

"I think we should make the whole community a bunch of stool pigeons," Lucchi said.

Directors decided to delay any further moves against vandalism until after a meeting of teen-agers and parents at the recreation center Aug. 11.

Directors M. Webb Beckstead and Grice Axtman were absent.

Hotel Client's Death Blamed On Morphine

A pathology report has shown that Fred Joseph Kitzmiller, 25, of 162 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, died of morphine poisoning, according to Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

Kitzmiller was found dead July 2 in a San Rafael hotel room which he had rented a few hours earlier.

Patricia Neal Set For Baby Arrival

GREAT MISSENDEN, England (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal, who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in February, will enter a hospital Monday to await the birth of a fifth child.

Her husband, British wirter Roald Dahl, said she is feeling fine.

Miss Neal, 39-year-old Academy Award winner, was stricken while making a film in Hollywood. The stroke left her paralyzed and speechless but when she was flown to her home in Britain in May she had learned to talk again and to walk with a brace on her left leg.

Citizen's Arrest Follows A Party

Dr. Robert F. Schell, 41, of 88 Deer Park Avenue, San Rafael, was booked by San Rafael police early today on a citizen's arrest charge of assault and battery.

Police said Alfonso Norris, 29, who lives in a cottage at the rear of 66 Brushwood Lane, San Rafael, accused Dr. Schell of hitting him in the face and shoving him out of the physician's car as they drove downtown after a party in Norris' cottage at 1 a.m.

Norris suffered scraped knees and elbows and lost a $75 cap to a front tooth, officers said. He declined to sign charges against a San Francisco man who was also in the car.

One-Arm Bandits Starve For Coin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The legality of using metal tokens in silver dollar slot machines will depend on their appearance and the manner in which they are used, a Treasury source said today.

Operators of gambling casinos in Nevada have asked whether they can legally use specially manufactured metal tokens to replace silver dollars. Most of the silver dollars have disappeared from circulation.

The Treasury source said there would be no yes or no answer on the question. He said there is a law against minting coins which closely resemble government money.

Also, such tokens cannot be legally circulated as money.

Ruth St. Denis Ready For Marin Festival

Ruth St. Denis, grand dame of dance at the age of 83, arrived in Marin yesterday for her appearance Sunday with the Marin Civic Ballet in the opening program of the "Festival on the Mountain."

She rehearsed with the Marin ballet, directed by Leona Norman, in the Cushing Amphitheater setting on Mount Tamalpais where the month-long festival will be presented by the Athenaeum Arts Foundation.

Seen in the "dance spectrum" program at 3 p.m. Sunday will also be the Pacific Ballet, directed by Alan Howard; the Marc Wilde Ballet; Noel Parenti, and Ciro's Flamencos. Sheila Xoregos is producer of the program.

Festival events will also include a harp concert with 15 harpists and other instrumentalists on Aug. 7, "composers' showcase" musical program on Aug. 8; drama festival featuring Agnes Moorehead and the San Francisco Mime Troupe on Aug. 14 and presenting the Playhouse Repertory Theater in Jean Anouilh's "Thieves' Carnival" on Aug. 15; folk song and dance festival on Aug. 21 and 22, and "Jazz on the Mountain" on Aug. 28 and 29.

Donors Send Clothing To Dixie Strikers

A truckload of food and clothing will leave Marin tomorrow to help striking Negroes in the Mississippi Delta, officials of the Marin to Mississippi Project announced today.

"It has been reported that many families have been evicted from their shacks and urgently require food, clothing and money," said Mrs. Alvin H. Goldstein of Sleepy Hollow, co-chairman of the Project.

Food and clothing will be delivered to Leland, Miss., where Margaret Kibbee, daughter of Mrs. Carleton Williams of Mill Valley, is working with the unions. Some office supplies will go to Greenville, where Peter Risley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Risley of Mill Valley, is working for the summer.

The delta strike represents an effort of Negro workers, mostly cotton pickers, to get the minimum wage of $1.25 per hour instead of the $3 they now get for working a 12-hour day, Mrs. Goldstein reported.

Broken Axle Club Learns Repair Costs

Citizens on Del Casa Drive and Elm Avenue in Mill Valley were told last night that it would cost between $10,000 and $12,000 to bring the streets up to standards suitable for city maintenance.

About 25 persons who live in the area, near the Mill Valley Golf Course, attended a meeting with representatives of the city planning department to find out what would be needed to bring the chuck-holed private roads under city maintenance. Most of them were members of the Broken Axle Club, a neighborhood improvement association.

Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon told the owners that the city policy is to participate 25 per cent in any improvement. City Engineer Stanley Bala gave the cost estimate.

Broken Axle Club members said they would attempt to interest other resident in participating in the improvements, possibly through an assessment district which might include Manor, Marlin and Fairfax drives and Val Vista Road.

Boy, 7, Falls In Front Of Automobile

The car driven by John W. Jaccard, 17, of 570 Montecillo Road, Terra Linda, had just topped the crest of a rise, northbound, at 2:40 p.m.

Jaccard saw Tufts start to make a U-turn just ahead of his car and slammed on the brakes. The boy looked up, saw the car, and "panicked," highway patrolmen reported.

He fell down with the bike in front of the Jaccard car, which stopped just in time. Young Tufts, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tufts, was bruised.

Hub School Plans Given Approval

Trustees of San Anselmo School District in special session last night reviewed plans for the addition to the Hidden Valley school and construction of a school on the Red Hill site.

Trustees confirmed details of plans presented by Architect J. Martin Rosse for the 12-room Red Hill School on the site formerly owned by Sunny Hills and for the eight room addition to the Hidden Valley School. Both construction jobs are expected to be completed by fall, 1966, Rulon K. Cook, administrative assistant in the district, reported.

Trustee Robert Corlett was absent from last night's meeting. Next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Isabel Cook School for adoption of the budget.

Novato Sanitation Budget Is Approved

A $197,575 budget for fiscal 1966 was approved last night by the Novato Sanitary District board.

The tax rate cannot be set until the assessed valuation of the district is known, but is not expected to change from last year's 50.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation, said Albert Tresch, secretary to the board.

The budget is $27,072 higher than last year's budget, but the increase in valuation is expected to take care of this without raising the tax rate, Tresch said.

An item of $20,000 for the purchase of 7.7 acres of land from Robert McClelland of 495 Olive Avenue, for an addition to the Novato treatment plant site, is not in the budget, Tresch said. This will be taken from accumulated capital improvement funds.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

1. Approved an agreement with Bahia Properties Inc. for sewers, pumping stations and treatment plat at Bahia Del Norte, the 1,500-acre subdivision between Bugeia Lane and the Petaluma River. The system will cost $435,114, according to the engineer's estimate.

2. Accepted sewer main extensions in Kaden Park Unit 1 of 25 lots off Rowland Boulevard, Bret Court subdivision of 20 lots off Center Road near Wilson Avenue, and San Marin Units 1 through 6, and the San Andreas Avenue extension.

3. Denied claims by Frank J. Cunningham of $140 for alleged sewer contamination to a well; Mrs. James Kilpatrick of $9.50 for a plumbing bill and Edward Goliti Jr. of $410 for added costs to a sewer connection.

The two leaders exchanged toasts last night at a dinner on Brioni, Tito's vacation island.

Tito said nonaligned countries should work for peaceful solutions of international crises.

Shastri appealed to the Soviet Union and United States "to renew efforts to overcome the deadlock" over financing peacekeeping operations in the United Nations.

Negroes Urged To Call Off Marches After Slaying

COMBINED AP & UPI

AMERICUS, Ga. — Mayor T. Griffin Walker urged Negro leaders today to call off demonstrators scheduled in the jittery aftermath of the street slaying of a white youth.

"One death is enough," the mayor said. "I solemnly urge that leaders call off the marches and demonstrations."

Negro spokesmen said earlier they would resume marches after a 24-hour suspendion following the midnight slaying Wednesday of Andrew A. Whatley Jr., 21, Marine Corps enlistee.

Whatley was shot to death from a passing car near a Negro demonstration, part of a series of protests against the arrest of four Negro women for trying to desegregate a voting line last week.

Two Negroes were charged with murder in the slaying of Whatley, whose death the mayor described as "a terrible monument to so - called peaceful demonstrations."

The Sumter County grand jury has been called for a special session Monday to consider the murder charges against the two Negroes, Eddie Will Lamar and Charley Lee Hopkins, both of Americus and in their 20s.

Today is Friday, July 30, the 211th day of 1965 with 154 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

American automobile manufacturer Henry Ford was born on this day in 1863.

On this day in history:

In 1619, the first American representative assembly convened at Jamestown, Va.

In 1916, German saboteurs blew up a munitions plant outside Jersey City, N. J. Two people were killed and damage amounted to $22 million.

In 1937, a new union was formed, the American Federation of Radio Artists AFRA.

In 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt formed the WAVES—"Women Appointed for Voluntary Emergency Service"— in the Navy.

A thought for the day — British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill said: "Nothing in life is so exhilarating as to be shot at without result."

HOW TO PLAY

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

High Cards Don't Matter —Shrewder Side Will Win

As a shrewd player you notice high and low cards that your opponents play as signals, and you use the information yourself.

West opened a club to the ace, and back came a club to the king. South drew two rounds of trumps and paused for thought.

HAD KING

If West had the king of diamonds, South could make the slam by taking an ordinary finesse.

If East had the king of diamonds, South could lead a diamond to the ace and return the queen of diamonds for a ruffing finesse.

South decided to lead more trumps in the hope of discovering who had the king of diamonds.

VERY WICKED

When South led the third trump West discarded the deuce of diamonds, and East discarded the nine of diamonds.

This false signal was very wicked of East, but that is the way of the world. Believing the signal, South led a diamond to the ace and returned the queen of diamonds for a ruffing finesse. That was the end of the slam.

Shrewd readers will point out that the nine of diamonds is a dead giveaway that East does not have the king.

SIT TIGHT

If he really had the king he would jut sit tight. But if East is shrewd enough to sit tight, South may be shrewd enough to read the situation and play East for the king.

In short, it doesn't really matter where the high cards are in a hand of this kind.

What matters is whether the defenders can deceive declarer, or whether he is clever enough to see through their maneuvers.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ A Q J 4

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond.

If partner bids one heart, you can bid one spade; if he bids two clubs, you can raise to three clubs. An opening bid of one spade is not bad, but may be awkward. If partner bids two clubs you bid two diamonds, but if he bids two hearts you will have to bid two no trump without a stopper in clubs.

WHERE THREE ESCAPED—Line indicates route of one of the most daring escapes ever over the Berlin Wall. A man, his wife and 9-year-old son slid to safety down a line running from the flagpole atop the East German government's headquarters building, to an open field 120 yards inside West Berlin. Circus-Style Gadget Hurdles Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — A hammer, a cord, and a bicycle wheel axle were among the simple tools of one of the most daring escapees over the Berlin wall.

Heinz Holzapfel, 33, an economist from Leipzig; his wife, Jutta, 32; and their 9-year-old son Guenter, made their escape to West Berlin Wednesday night and early yesterday by sliding down in a homemade cable harness from the roof of a guarded East German government building.

The five-story "House of Ministries", where East German Premier Willie Stoph has offices, is about 25 feet from the wall dividing East and West Berlin.

"I planned the escape for a year and a half," Holzapfel said.

He took his family to the building Wednesday at 5 p.m. they hid in an attic room until about 10 p.m.

"We went out of the room onto the roof. It was pouring rain. We wanted to be across by 11 p.m., but it took much more time."

Holzapfel had a nylon-type cord tied to a hammer. The hammer handle was painted with phosphorous so those waiting in West Berlin could see it when he threw it. The hammer head was padded to mute any noise.

When the hammer came over, the watchers in West Berlin fastened a heavy cable to it. Holzapfel and his wife pulled it to the roof. The other end was attached to an abandoned truck trailer in a field.

Holzapfel had made a pulley out of a bicycle wheel axle, with a shoulder and waist harness slung underneath.

The child was placed into the harness first, grabbing an attachment to the axle, he rolled down over the wall and the barbed wire atop it.

"Then my wife went next. She was hurt as she landed, but thank God, not seriously. She was only bruised."

Holzapfel himself came over at 1:30 a.m.

Holzapfel said he was a member of the East German Communist party and was assigned by the party to explain its policies to his fellow workers. He decided to escape, he said, because he was tired of handing out propaganda he knew was not true.

Integration Talks In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Board of Education has announced plans to meet with civil rights groups to discuss alleged racial inequality in the school system.

Edgar D. Osgood, chairman of the Human Rights Commission of San Francisco, said yesterday that his group made the arrangements with the school board.

Osgood said he hoped the discussions could start by next weekend and serve to forestall threatened demonstrations over the schools next fall.

The National Committee for the Advancement of Colored People chapter in San Francisco has urged both state and federal governments to suspend funds to local schools because of alleged de facto segregation.

Another protest was launched recently by 18 civil rights groups.

Navy Cadets Pay Increase Sought

In its report for 1965, the academy's board of visitors recommended creation of a separate pay grade for midshipmen to correct their "unsatisfactory financial status." Midshipmen now draw $111.15 a month, plus allowances. Part of the allowances must be paid back beginning in their second year, however.

NEW TELEPHONE MAKES DEBUT

Bell Telephone System's new Trimline telephone moves the dial right onto the grip between receiver and microphone, and make it smaller. The model's finger is on the "dial tone recall button" which enables the user to end a conversation and get the dial tone again without having to set the unit back on its base. Now being introduced in Michigan, the Trimline gradually will be installed elsewhere in the nation.

Martinelli, Sons Sell Redwood Bank Shares

Jordan L. Martinelli Sr. said today that he has disposed of all his interest in the Redwood National Bank and resigned as a director Wednesday—the same day shares owned by his two sons were sold to a management group headed by bank president Byron W. Leydecker.

Martinelli Sr. had remained as a director of the bank until Wednesday, during a dispute over the method of electing directors and over whether a stockholders meeting could reduce the number of directorships from 11 to seven.

He said he and his sons, Jordan Jr. and Roderick P., were among those who sold all their stock at $15 per share to the management group headed by Leydecker.

In all, 22,140 shares were sold to the group. Besides the Martinellis' stock, this included stock of former directors D. M. Christensen, Roger J. Darrow and Sherman Leland Jr.

Leased Cars Become Main Status Symbol

NEW YORK (UPI)—You can tell a man's position by the car his company keeps him in. So says George Culp, president of C.I.T. Service Leasing Corp. High prestige cars increasingly are becoming a company fringe benefit for key employes, he says.

"Better than corner offices," Culp says. "You can take the car with you when you go home."

METAL MOVE

U.S. Is Changing Content In Coins

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam has cleared the way to keep up with the big jump in the demand for coins and currency in the United States.

His plan, in a sense, is less silver and more gold.

The abnormal increase in the last two years in the volume of coins and paper money in circulation caught the United States by surprise. Apparently it wasn't duplicated in other lands.

To free its mints to meet the coin shotage, past and potential, the United States is changing the metal content of coins. Silver, in greater demand both for coins and industrial use, is being dropped from dimes and quarters and cut to 40 per cent in half dollars. With copper and nickel Uncle Sam can make more and cheaper coins—and avoid running out of silver.

The growing economy calls for more money and credit. But in the last two years the demand has grown much faster than the economy.

Vending machines and turnstiles have multiplied. The coin demand has spurted even more.

The average annual increase between 1954 and 1961 was $95 million. In 1962 this jumped to $190 million; in 1963 to $226 million; and in 1964 to $327 million.

Federal Reserve figures show the annual increase in paper money in circulation in 2954-1961 was $259 million. This jumped to $1.17 billion in 1962, $1.47 billion in 1963 and $1.94 billion in 1964.

The increase in coinage demand this year is estimated at $495 million and in currency at $1.97 billion.

The totals are sizable. In June 1965 paper money in circulation plus demand deposits for which currency can be obtained, reached $35 billion. The Treasury reports 12 billion silver dimes, quarters and half dollars are now outstanding. And 3.5 million of the new coins will be minted in the next year.

While the value of the outstanding coins is much less than that of the paper mony, the rate of increase in demand for coins has been much faster. This year coin demand is 15.4 per cent higher than last, while currency growth is up 5.7 per cent.

One reason given is the advent of the vending machine age. Another is the growth of the economy. A third is the increase in the number coin collectors and the size of the collections in an affluent society. A fourth is possible hoarding in expectation of a shortage increasing either the value of collector's items or of the metal content of the coins.

Still another might be that in the months of increasing prosperity, money of all sorts burns holes faster in people's pockets.

Priest In 90s Shakes Up Parish House As He Does His Exercises

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When the Rev. George M. Trunk does his daily exercises, he often jumps so hard the whole Roman Catholic parish house shakes.

Father Trunk will be 95 Sept. 1.

This month he sang Mass in San Francisco's Church of the Nativity to celebrate his iron jubilee — 70 years in the priesthood.

In retirement, Father Trunk's activities range from calisthenics to writing. He has had two books published and currently writes two weekly columns for Slovenian-American newspapers.

Father Trunk also smokes cigars, preferring butts held by a toothpick.

"Half cigars are the best," he said in an interiew. "They don't get sour and yet they get all the nicotine."

He said some of his newspaper readers say he's "a little too sharp, a little too much with the new trend. These refugees, you know, they go for old trends."

"We are all members of the human race," Father Trunk continued. "I am convinced that by and by the whole world will be one family, but it might take hundreds of years."

His shook his head. "We are such children. Here I am almost 100 — that's my current ambition — and still it's such a short time. It takes hundreds of years for an idea to be realized."

Ten years ago Father Trunk painted a mural in his room showing his boyhood home in Austria.

He said his geography teacher told him America was a refuge for criminals. But Father Trunk came to the United States in 1921 after seeing American Marines on a trip to Egypt. "You couldn't find men like that in Europe," he said. "I thought America must be something."

Father Trunk served in churches in Berwick, N.D., and Leadville, Colo., before coming to San Francisco in 1946. In 1955 he was struck by a car and was not expected to live.

He has worked his way back to doing push-ups, arm twists and leg lifts. "Sometimes," says his companion, the Rev. Vital Vodusek, "he jumps so hard on the floor that the whole parish house is shaking."

The appetite of a crocodile knows hardly any bounds. For example, the contents of one crocodile's stomach was found to include the quills of a porcupine, 11 heavy brass arm rings, three coiled wire armlets, a glass bead necklace, 14 arm and leg bones, three spinal columns, 18 stones of various sizes and a length of fiber cord.

Number Of Babies Being Born In U.S. On Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steady decline in the number of babies being born in this country continued through May, the Public Health Service reported today. The drop started in 1958.

During May 302,000 babies were born, the service estimated, and the birth rate was down to 18.4 for each 1,000 population.

In May 1964 there were 331,000 births and the rate was 20.5.

The May figures served to strengthen speculation that the number of babies born this year will drop below 4 million for the first time since 1953.

Public Health Service officials say they have no sure explanation for the decline since a record 4,308,000 were born in 1957. They decline to speculate that availability of birth control pills is a major factor though this theory is advanced in other quarters.

Arthur A. Campbell, chief of the service's natality statistics branch, pointed out that the decline began in 1958 and the pills were not avilabale until June 1960, and not in wide use until 1961 or 1962.

According to the Florida State Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, studies show that alcohol consumed at high altitudes has more of an anesthetic effect on memory, perception and reaction time than it does when consumed at low altitudes.

Parked Car Gets Runaway Dents

Dean R. Short, 18, of 622 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera, drove his car into a steep Belvedere driveway and parked it at 10:15 p.m. yesterday. He went into the house at 2 Crest Road and heard a crash outside.

The car had slid backwards down the driveway and was rolling downhill through the underbrush. Halfway down the hill, it turned around and continued downward, nose first, until it stopped 150 feet from the driveway and just above Madrone Avenue.

Belvedere police tied the car to a tree for the night; it was to be towed out today. The only damage was minor fender dents.

Children Charged In Home Burglary

Three young Corte Madera boys were to be charged today with burglary of the Thomas A. Rotell home at 5 Sonora Way of $125 to $150 worth of items last week.

Corte Madera police reported the boys, two 7-year-olds and and a 10-year-old, entered the home through a kitchen window after one of them threw a rock through it while the Rotells were vacationing.

Stolen were a transister radio valued at $79, along with $18 worth of coins, cigars, cigarettes, carving knives and miscelaneous items, police reported.

Wrong Way Viking Well Remembered

By JACK HAND

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Jim Marshall, Minnesota's version of Wrong Way Corrigan, has sworn off sky diving — until after the football season.

"Norm doesn't like for me to jump during the season," said the Vikings' 247-pound defensive end who may be the best pass rusher in the National Football League. "There always is a chance I might twist an ankle."

The Norm that Marshall mentioned is Norm Van Brocklin, head coach of the Vikings. The Dutchman takes a dim view of football players jumping out of airplanes, even with two parachutes.

Marshall, a blithe spirit, claims he has made 56 jumps at heights ranging from 2,800 feet to 13,900 and plans to go higher. As a member of the Twin Eagles exhibition team he has been available for exhibitions at conventions and carnivals.

"My wife doesn't exactly encourage it," said the big fellow with the brush mustache. "But she has learned to accept it as part of me. I am an active fellow. I just entered a school for judo and karate. I think it might help me in football."

And that's not all. Marshall is a scuba diver, a weight lifter, a retired wig merchant and a salesman for a brokerage house. He also is quite some football player.

Independent-Journal Sports

18 Friday, July 30, 1965

Jim made headlines last year in San Francisco when he grabbed a bouncing football and ran 67 yards the wrong way for a touchdown. Fortunately, the Vikings won anyway, 27-22.

"The hardest thing I ever had to do was come out of the dressing room in San Francisco after that game," said Marshall. "I just waved and laughed with the people instead of getting mad about it. The next morning a newspaperman, Jim Klobuchar, asked me to appear at a luncheon in Minneapolis. I got a standing ovation.

"In the first week I got over 1,000 letters and I still get more. Everybody has something good to say and they all tell me not to worry, it could happen to anybody. It wasn't as bad as I thought it would be.

"But I still wish it had never happened. I take football seriously. After a thing like that people tend to think of you in a joking manner. I got letters signed Roy Riegels (the original wrong way kid) and Wrong Way Corrigan.' '

Marshall's main mission from July to January is playing that fine old pro football game called Get the Quarterback.

"You don't always have to make a tackle," said Marshall. "The idea is to get him if you can but at least bother him, make him get rid of the ball before he has sighted his target. The hardest one for me to get to is Johnny Unitas. He stays in the pocket and leaves it to those two big bulls at guard to keep you off. The strongest is that Roman Gabriel of Los Angeles. One hand doesn't even bother him.

"I'm glad I don't have to play against our quarterback—Francis Tarkenton. A scrambler like that can run you out of gas. Chase him a few times and he's got you beat down."

U.S. Stars Ailing On Eve Of Big Russian Meet

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

I-J Sports Editor

Billy Casper Is Coming Home; Notes On Our Softball Champs

Bill(ionaire) Casper, one of golfdom's Mr. Moneybags who plays under the nom de plumage of Peacock Gap, will return "home" to the San Rafael country club late in August for about a week's visit.

The Peacockers are busily arranging an invitational golf tourney to coincide with their touring pro's rare visit to these parts. Casper, who signed last spring to represent the Gap on the pro tour, is more than a "name only" Peacock pro; he actually owns one of them there condominium apartments at the course.

OTHER BIG local golf dates to remember: Marin Country Club's annual Italian Golf Carnevale Aug. 29, and the Marin Invitational Tournament of Stars Sept. 19 at Peacock. The former is our county's golfing answer to Days of Wine and Roses; the latter is the Hollywood celebrity-type shindig that proved so successful last September.

DOES ANYONE remember the last time a Marin County team played in a California State Softball Tournament? A few local fans guess "about 17 years ago."

Anyway, it's been a long, long time, but Sohner Tree Service team of San Anselmo will end that drought tomorrow night when it treks to Hayward for the 1965 state finals. The Treemen earned the bid by brilliantly winning the district championship at Santa Rosa last week—the first team in at least four years to go undefeated through five games in that qualifying tournament.

Oddly, none of the players is a Sohner employee—not a sap in this branch of the family tree.

Third sacker Milt Hain, outfielder Keith Fraser and first sacker Ed Schulze are high school teacher-coaches.

Outfielder John Brookman is an electrician, Ken Cuneo works for Marin Muni Water District, pitcher Lou Perazzo is employed by Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. in S.F., reserve catcher-outfielder Art Donati by IBM, also in S.F. and second sacker Dave Hughes works for Berkeley Farms (Farms in Berkeley?)

Four of the Sohnermen also star in semi-pro baseball—Fraser as a pitcher for the Mill Valley Merchants and Munyon, Hughes and Brookman for the Billings-Hutchison Builders.

Six players have been with the Sohner team since its inception eight years ago—Perazzo, Hain, Cuneo, Fraser, Donati and Jerome.

This is Jerome's first year as manager (shades of Casey Stengel, Yogi Berra).

All of the regulars—with the exception of Petaluman Schulze—reside in Marin.

Marin fans planning to journey to Hayward for the tourney are advised to take the Nimitz Freeway, bypassing Oakland (doesn't everyone?), take the East Tennyson offramp at Hayward, proceed to Patrick Street, cop a hard left and—zingo, you're at Gomer Patrick Field. Play ball.

NORTH YARDAGE — Quarterback Mark Marquess (17) of Stockton's Stagg High gets away from a would-be tackler from the South and picks up third period yardage in last night's Shrine North-South prep all-star game in Los Angeles. 'WIDE OPEN' GRID ERA? HAH! NORTH, SOUTH PREPS TIE 7-7

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—If this is supposed to be the age of wide open football, someone forgot to tell the North and South High School All Stars.

The two opponents in the 14th annual Shrine charity game slugged it out on the ground for a 7-7 tie last night in the Coliseum before a crowd of 44,795. The series now stands 7-4-3 in favor of the south.

Even the first downs ended in a draw, 10-10, although the favored South outgained its foes 186-147. Both teams were equal on the ground with 131 yards.

The one time the Southern All-Stars got a little free wheeling, it almost cost them the game. They ended up having to hold Northern fullback Jerry Belcher of Red Bluff twice at the one foot line.

The goal line struggle came with the score knotted at 7-7 after an exchange of third quarter fumbles. The South was on its own 44 and gambled with a fourth-and-one situation.

The fourth down play failed and the North, taking over, stormed to a first down on the Southern nine. From there Belcher carried four straight times—twice to reach the one-foot line and then twice more from there. He was thrown back both times.

Quarterback Gene Washington of Long Beach Poly, who gained 66 yards in 12 carries to top his team, guided he south to a 7-0 lead midway through the first quarter.

SOUTH STRIKES

The South took the opening kickoff and ground out 60 yards in 16 plays, with Washington diving in from a yard out. Ron Butler of Anaheim converted.

The North reached the Southern four yard line in the first half, after Joe Vigil of Pittsburg recovered a fumble by La Canada's Nick Davidson on the 37. The drive stalled, however.

The North tied the score in the third quarter with a 70-yard drive after the opening kickoff. The first 14 plays of the 16-play march were on the ground, before southpaw quarterback Mark Marquess of Stagg High of Stockton threw an incomplete pass from the Southern eight.

Marquess faded to pass again on the next play and hit Ron Crawford of Lodi, who cut down the middle and leaped between two defenders in the end zone. Don Zimmerman of Madera added the extra point.

Belcher paced the Northern ground attack with 59 yards on 21 carries, while Selma's Rick Bennett, who scored 27 touchdowns as a high school senior, gained 34 yards in 10 carries.

Mills Sidelined; Meet On Live TV

By WILL GRIMSLEY

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — A severe sore throat sent America's Billy Mills, Olympic 10,000-meter champion, to the sidelines today on the eve of the annual track and field clash between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The United States' other main distance running hopes, Bob Schul of Dayton, Ohio, Olympic gold medalist in the 5,000 meters, turned up with a similar ailment but will run.

The setback, coming on top of little Gerry Lindgren's lingering bad cold, was a hard blow to the U.S. team. It was counting on the distance races to help turn back a strong Russian squad.

Mills, the part Sac Indian from Oceanside, Calif., and Schul joined the American team early this morning from Moscow where they had been held up for five days by visa problems.

"I caught a sore throat Monday when I had to sleep at the Moscow Airport," said Mills, who has been running in Europe for a month.

"My throat and the entire back of my neck hurt miserably. I could not possibly run. The way I feel now, I don't think I could finish."

Schul said, "I have been fighting a sore throat and a cold ever since I reached Europe a month ago. But my throat is better. I can run."

American coach Brutus Hamilton was discouraged over the latest development but said, "we won't make any decisions until Saturday. We never count a man out until we are sure."

If Mills cannot run — and it appears almost certain that he will not — Bill Morgan of San Francisco will substitute as a running mate of the 19-year-old Lindgren in the 10,000 meters.

Morgan's best time for the distance is 29 minutes 33.8 seconds compared with 28:11.6 for Mills and Lindgren.

The Soviet Union's top performance this year was 28:49.0 by Leonid Ivanov.

Meanwhile, the Russians were giving the meet a deep freeze.

Unlike past meetings, which have been widely publicized, the Russians are acting as if this one isn't taking place.

The major newspapers in Moscow carried a few lines on the inside pages on the American team's arrival earlier this week, then proceeded to forget it. Football, tennis and other sports have been getting a large play — the track meet nothing.

Also, the meeting between the world's two major track powers will not be televised in the Soviet Union although it is being beamed to the United States.

ABC will televise, live, via satellite, various events Saturday and Sunday. The times are 9-10 a.m., PDT, Saturday, and 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. PDT Sunday.

The Americans scored their most one-sided triumph last year in Los Angeles, 139-97, in the men's division while holding

San Rafael's Rally Wins In Tourney

San Rafael rallied from a 3-1 deficit in the sixth inning last night to whip Calistoga 10-3 in Senior Division play in the San Anselmo Invitational All-Star Baseball Tournament.

A seven-run uprising by San Rafael on five hits gave it a big victory in the game played at Memorial Park. San Rafael pitcher Mark Carbone allowed 5 hits, walked 6 and struck out 7 to earn the win.

Calsitoga's John Madgigal slammed a two-run homer in the first inning. Rich Schau led San Rafael with two hits and starred in the infield at his shortstop position. Ken Dukes had a two-run double for the winners.

Two games are on tap tonight, both games starting at 6 o'clock. In the Senior Division, Fairfax vs. San Anselmo, and in the Minor Division, Sausalito vs. Marinwood.

Little League Semi-Finals Tonight—Finals Tomorrow

Competition is getting stiffer in the District 3 Little League All-Star Tournament, with semi-final games scheduled tonight and the championship tomorrow.

Hamilton-Loma Verde and Novato meet at the Hamilton Air Force Base diamond in Area 1, and Mill Valley National goes against Twin Cities at Joe Wagner Field in Larkspur, area 2. Both semi-final games today start at 6 p.m.

Novato has advanced on the fine pitching from Stan Ericksen and Randy Foster who have totaled 21 strikeouts between them in Novato's two tourney wins. And the team packs the punch at the bat, beating San Rafael American in the opener 9-2 and then whipping Gallinas Valley 11-1 in the quarter-finals.

Hamilton-Loma Verde blanked Marinwood 10-0 behind the pitching of Ron Riding and fine defensive play in the team's first game and then got past San Rafael National 4-2 Wednesday, with pitcher Dave Perron striking out 12. Ron Budde got two of Hamilton-Loma Verde's five hits in that game.

Mill Valley National got a bye in the opening day of the Marin County tourney and then beat Mill Valley American Wednesday 4-0 behind the no-hit pitching of Bill Secor. Batting power for the Nationals was provided by Bobby Gerrish with a homer and two runs batted in and John Melvin with a triple and the team's two other RBI.

Twin Cities, runner-up for the title to Novato last year, has a pitching staff that has allowed just one run in the two triumphs this week. Jeff Nedd blanked Tiburon with a no-hitter as the Twin Cities nine won the opener, 4-0, and Ross Gondak came back Wednesday with a three-hitter to beat Sausalito 5-1. Frank Pomilia, the Twin Cities catcher, is the slugger of the tourney so far. He hit two homers in the first game and came back in the second battle with a clutch two-run single. He has five runs batted in for the two games.

Winners of tonight's games meet tomorrow at 3 p.m. on the Novato Little League field with the championship at stake. Losers of tonight's games play at 1 p.m., also at Novato, for the third place prize.

Winner of the District 3 tournament goes to Sacramento for the sectionals Aug. 5 through 7. After that, for the winner, comes the divisionals, regionals, then national World Series.

Giants Send Shaw Against Milwaukee

S.F. Opens Road Trip Tonight

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Right-hander Bob Shaw, reliever turned starter, opposes his erstwhile mates tonight when the San Francisco Giants open a five-game series against the Milwaukee Braves with third place at stake in the National League.

Shaw beat Milwaukee 2-1 in his last outing, July 25, and had faced them briefly the day before but departed after three pitches after a disagreement with umpire Bill Jackowski.

Shaw, 10-6, opposes Hank Fisher, 4-4.

San Francisco swept a three-game series from the Braves in San Francisco after dropping their first four engagements with Milwaukee this season.

The Giants compiled an 8-5 record on their just-concluded home stand, but most people figure Willie Mays must shake his slump to keep them moving on the road.

The All-star centerfielder, hampered by a hip injury, has gone hitless in his last 22 times at bat although still hitting .314, sixth best in the league. He leads in homers with 23 but has hit only one in July and two since June 20.

With Mays slumping and Orlando Cepeda, leading batter of 1964, still unable to rejoin the club because of an ailing right knee, the Giants have been winning with superior pitching.

Most noteworthy have been the relief efforts of Frank Linzy who has appeared in 34 games with a 1.61 earned-run-average.

In his last outing Wednesday against St. Louis, he wasn't charged with an earned run in 2 1-3 innings while contributing a home run and single—his first major league hits—to the Giants' attack in an 8-5 victory.

Shaw was traded to the Giants by Milwaukee after the 1963 season and was figured for the bullpen. He worked there last season and for his first nine appearances in 1965.

He wanted to become a starter again and convinced Manager Herman Franks he should get a try. He beat Houston on May 16 in his first start and hasn't returned to the bullpen.

Casper Trails By 1 Pop In Thunderbird

By JIM HACKLEMAN

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — If you're looking for an unlikely candidate to lead today's charge into the second round of the Thunderbird Golf Classic, try Pat Schwab.

The 32-year-old club pro from West Orange, N.J., is a pudgy, unathletic-looking 250-pounder. He was forced off the tour seven years ago when he developed tendonitis in his left shoulder, and still is hampered by the ailment. He had to qualify for this $100,000 event, and barely made it in a playoff.

But Schwab is the pace setter after a consistently sparkling six-under-par 66 yesterday that put him in front of such star performers as Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, and Tony Lema.

"A piece of cake," the University of Florida graduate said as he sat down to talk to reporters. But you knew he was kidding, and you knew he was unaccustomed to all the attention — "I hope there are this many people at my wake."

Par over the Westchester Country Club's lush, 6,573 yards proved an easy mark — 47 in the field of 147 broke 72 and 15 more matched it.

Nicklaus is one stroke back of Schwab, along with five others — Billy Casper of Peacock Gap, Calif., 1962 Thunderbird winner Gene Littler, Harold Kneece, Pete Brown, and Rocky Thompson, one of several University of Houston products making a living at golf.

GARY 69, TONY 70

Player posted 69, along with Bruce Devlin, Doug Sanders, Bob Charles and six others. Defending Thunderbird champion Lema was one of 16 bunched at 70 and 10 more had 71s.

the Russian women to a 58-48 score, and then went on to outshine them in the Olympics in Tokyo.

Soviet critics called for Gabriel's scalp, but here Korobkov is back with his same old reliables including high jumper Valery Brumel, broad jumper Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, and the fabulous Press sisters, Tamara and Irina, plus some fresh young talent.

A 400-meter runner, Nikolai Shcarmianov, is only 19. Sprinter Yuri Kashcheyev and miler Oleg Raiko are just 20. Women's shot putter Nadezhda Chizhova is 19 and sprinter Galina Mitrokhina is 21.

The United States is meeting this intensified threat with a solid team anchored by five Olympic champions and 24 AAU title-holders, men and women.

The men are favored to dominate the running events again, even in the distances.

Giant Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., who has done 70-7, figures to dominate the shot put.

Jay Silvester of Logan, Utah, is flying in to join Dave Weill, of Walnut Creek, Calif., in the discus ring.

Miler Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., 110-meter hurdler Blaine Lindgren of Spokane, Wash., and steeplechaser George Young of Casa Grande, Ariz., are shooting for a repeat victory over the Russians in their specialties.

Midnight Moonlight Marathon

San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere will put on its annual Midnight Moonlight Maritime Marathon tomorrow, starting at 5 p.m., off Angel Island's Knox Buoy.

KOUFAX ELBOW IN TROUBLE? RIDICULOUS, CLAIMS SANDY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball's most famous left elbow not only is part of baseball's winningest arm; it also is the center of apparently differing diagnoses.

The elbow belongs to Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' 17-game winner. It started on the way to fame when it was discovered to have arthritis in the spring.

It's now the subject of rumors following Koufax' latest performance.

The rumors over Sandy's pitching arm began circulating after the southpaw lost to Cincinnati 4-1 Wednesday night.

The Dodger team physician, Dr. Robert Kerlan, examined the slightly swollen elbow as he does after every game.

"He had a flareup in his elbow," Kerlan said yesterday. "I would say the arthritic condition in his elbow, which is chronic, was perhaps a bit worse last night."

Koufax pitched eight innings, striking out eight, allowing five hits and walking one.

In the early innings the stiffness appeared. Sandy took massage treatments for it on the bench and also slipped into the clubhouse between innings.

"What happened was that I had trouble getting loose and my control was bad — but that's nothing new," Koufax told reporters in Albuquerque, N.M., slightly irked at the fuss over the flaring joint.

"After you go nine innings consistently for a few games your arm has a tendency to become tired. Sometimes it comes back a little stronger after you've been knocked out in the fifth or sixth inning."

The 29-year-old Koufax is trying his best to bear up under the publicity and pressure of pitching a team to the pennant. He had 11 straight victories, then he lost one. But it happened in a game where he was able to retire 13 Redlegs in a row, so connecting his trouble to the swelling is to Sandy, "utterly ridiculous."

"I haven't missed a turn this year," Sandy says proudly, "and I don't intend to if I can help it. As far as I know, I will pitch Sunday against the Cardinals and next Thursday against the Braves."

Kerlan has said from the beginning that the elbow could swell occasionally without sidelining Koufax. The matter seems to be a personal one between an unpredictable joint, a tall, quiet pitcher and nature.

"As a matter of fact," concludes the patient, "it feels even better now than after some games I've pitched this year." Which would indicate he's been pitching with arthritis—and winning.

Mrs. G.E. French Wins Tourney

Mrs. G. E. French scored 41 points to win the Sadie Kuklinsky Joint-Par tournament yesterday at the Meadow Club in Fairfax. The tourney is named after a former golfer at the club.

Class A—Mrs. D. A. Bailey, 38 points; Mrs. T. N. Brown, 37; Mrs. John Weitzel, 36.

CONFIDENT MEXICANS PREDICT DAVIS UPSET

DALLAS (AP) — Pancho Contreras, captain of the Mexican Davis Cup team, predicted today that "we will win the greatest victory for our country" in the American Zone finals against the United States.

The veteran of many Davis Cup wars put nonplaying now, Contreras said he didn't mind playing the finals on U.S. soil although the Mexican players have grumbled about the matches being moved from Mexico City. Dallas got them by putting up $20,000.

"If we play them in Mexico and win, the fans will say we had an advantage," said the mustachioed Contreras as he watched Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox work out under the steaming Texas sun. "But if we play them here and win it will be the greatest victory Mexico ever scored."

Pancho Gonzales, the Mr. Tennis of the pros who has been coaching the U.S. team since March, had an entirely different view of the situation.

"We will win 4-1," he said flatly as he eyed Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe, who will play the singles, and Ham Richardson, who will pair with Ralston in the doubles. "We are too deep for them."

The matches go on tomorrow for a three-day run with a sell-out crowd of 3,107 in the stands at Samuell-Grand Tennis Center.

How they will pair in the opening matches will not be known until this afternoon when the draw is held. Contreras said he would not decide whether he would use Osuna and Palafox all the way until that time.

He has two others on his squad — Vicente Zaruza and Joaquin Loyo Mayo, each with limited experience in Davis Cup play.

George MacCall, the U.S. nonplaying captain, made his decision last week — he will use Ralston and Ashe in the singles and Ralston and Richardson in the doubles regardless of the draw.

Richardson, the 3-year-old Dallas businessman who has played six doubles matches in Davis Cup competition and has yet to lose, backed Gonzales in the 4-1 prediction. He already has tasted victory over Osuna and Palafox this year. He and Ralston beat them.

Richardson was on the U.S. team from 1951 to 1958 but since has been a weekend player until called out of semi-retirement this year.

Contreras picked it to be quite close. "I think we will win 3-2" he said. "We will win two singles matches and I don't think anybody can beat Osuna and Palafox in the doubles."

Osuna and Palafox are former Wimbledon champions.

Ralston beat Osuna in the Davis Cup matches at Los Angeles in 1963 but Palafox has never played either Ralston or Ashe in Davis Cup competition.

Ashe is the young man just out of UCLA where he was the NCAA champion. He is the first Negro to ever play for the United States in Davis Cup competition.

There are six players on the U.S. Davis Cup squad. Marty Riessen, Frank Froehling and Clark Graebner are the substitutes. Gonzales has said he has four men capable of beating the Mexicans — Ralston, Ashe, Richardson and Riessen. That's what he meant by the Americans having an advantage in depth.

"Osuna and Palafox will do all the playing for Mexico while I can use a fresh man in the doubles," said Gonzales.

The matches will be at 2 p.m., CST, daily Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Pascual Out For 30 Days; Surgery

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Camilo Pascual, Minnesota Twins' right-hander who'd been counted on to help the team stay in pennant contention, will be out at least 30 days due to his tumor troubles.

The 31-year-old Cuban will go to Washington, D.C., early next week to have surgery by Dr. George Resta, Senators' physidurin It was Dr. Resta who discovered the small tumor behind Pascual's right shoulder during an examination Wednesday.

If the Twins can get a late season performance from Pascual equal to his early record, they'll be in good position for the September drive for the pennant. Minnesota now leads the American League by four games. The Twins have been playing without their curve balling ace since early June.

Pascual chalked up eight straight triumphs before he started having back troubles near his pitching arm. Since June 8, he has lost three and in the past five weeks started only four games.

TOMORROW AT ORINDA

49ers Scrimmage

During the week Coach Jack Christiansen pitted his starting offensive unit against the defensive reserves and the starting defenders against the offensive reserves. He said he'll use the same system tomorrow.

Christiansen is holding off making any cuts. "We are going to have to cut down," he said, "but we want to make sure that everyone who can make this team gets a chance."

There are 66 in training now but Christiansen said he won't go into the pre-season opener against Cleveland Aug. 15 with more than 55 players.

The coach said a high spot of practice sessions has been the playing of end Bob Poole, running behind Monty Stickles.

"Poole went up and snagged a couple of tough ones in our scrimmage," Christiansen said. "He was catching the ball real fast."

The 49ers scrimmage tomorrow will be at 3 p.m.

DEFENSE KEY TO SOHNER'S SUCCESS

Superb pitching and an airtight defense were the main ingredients used by Sohner Tree Service to post a perfect 5-0 record in the District Softball Finals in Santa Rosa during the past two weeks, qualifying the San Anselmo team for the tSate finals at Hayward this weekend.

The similarity of the tourney records for Sohner's hurling combination of brothers Morey and Gary Swarm is amazing. Both pitchers hurled 21 innings and each allowed two earned runs (.067 ERA), 13 hits and struck out 18.

Gary walked seven and posted a 2-0 record while Morey did not walk a single batter and was 3-0. Gary started one less game, but pitched the 2-0 victory in 14 innings over Lucky 7 Golf of Santa Rosa.

The defense, in addition to committing only four errors in 42 innings and allowing but one unearned run, continually came up with the big play.

An example of the superb defense came in Sohner's 2-1 conquest of Good Spot when Bill Haymart's perfect throw nailed a runner at the plate and first-baseman Ed Schulze made a scrambling stop and put-out on a smash that was headed for the right field corner to tie the score and put the winning run on third with none out.

"Our pitchers kept us out of trouble most of the time," commented Sohner manager Ron Jerome. "But when they got in trouble, it always seemed that someone was making the greatest play of his life to save us."

The Marin team had a .229 tourney batting average with three hitters pacing the attack. Schulze (.360), John Brookman (.356) and Jerome (.333) were the only ones to hit over .300.

Dave Hughes collected only three tourney hits, but two of them drove in winning runs and the third was the big hit in Sohner's two-run rally in the 3-1 victory over Larkspur Merchants.

Hughes drove in the first run in the 14th inning of Sohner's 2-0 marathon victory. Two nights later the Sohner second-baseman tripled to drive in both runs in a 2-1 verdict over Good Spot.

With the state tournament coming up in Hayward, Sohner has been once again faced with the problem of finding an adequate field on which to practice —especially under the lights.

This year only two independent "A" teams—Sohner and Dean's —are playing in Marin.

Sohner's first round opponent in the double elimination state finals at Hayward tomorrow night, 6 o'clock, is Equitable Life of Monterey, winner of two straight tournaments.

College Stars Fizzle In Drill With Bears

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Either the Chicago Bears have improved considerably as a National Football League contender, or the College All-Stars are in for a rugged evening against the Cleveland Browns in the 32nd All-Star Football Game at Soldier Field a week from tonight.

The Bears outscored the All-Stars 38-14 in a game-type controlled scrimmage at the Bears' camp in Rennselaer, Ind., yesterday.

The All-Stars had a few standouts, mainly quarterback Roger Staubach of Navy on offense and linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois on defense, but generally the collegians hardly seemed ready to strike fear in the hearts of the NFL champion Browns.

Four of the five Bear touchdowns came on forward passes — two by third string quarterback Larry Rakestraw.

Except for Staubach's skillful scampering as a passing threat and the receiving of Florida State's Fred Biletnikoff, the All-Star attack sputtered most of the time. Staubach, broke loose on runs of 27, 26 and 11 yards and completed seven of 15 passes, one a 30-yard scoring shot to Biletnikoff.

The other All-Star touchdown came on a 44-yard pass interception return by Utah's Jeff Jordan. This came with the All-Stars trailing 21-0 in the second quarter.

Staubach undoubtedly will be the starting quarterback against the Browns unless Notre Dame's John Huarte, California's Craig Morton or Michigan's Bob Timberlake make sudden and drastic improvement.

Otto Graham, making his eighth All-Star game appearance as head coach, was deeply disappointed by his squad's inability to sustain its own attack or to contain the Bears' aerial game.

FORTAS CRITICIZED

GOP Lawmakers Rap Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas, his old friend and adviser, to the Supreme Court has come under fire from some Republican members of Congress.

There was some criticism on both sides of the Capitol yesterday, along with the announcement that the Senate Judiciary Committee's hearing on the nomination will be postponed a week, until Aug. 12.

However, it did not appear that the criticism posed any serious threat to the confirmation of Fortas, a Washington lawyer whose background includes service in President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal. Acting Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the resetting of the hearing was at Fortas' request.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., cited in the House yesterday an article in Esquire magazine which, he said, depicted Fortas as trying to suppress the story about the arrest last fall of Walter Jenkins, then a top White House aide, on morals charges.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, backed Hall, saying Fortas "did everything in his power to kill the story."

Hall told the House that "there is a serious question whether Mr. Fortas will be able to exercise independence because of his intimate ties with the President and because he has been a quiet participant in some of the more dubious transactions involving the Johnson administration."

He said Fortas had served as counsel for Bobby Baker, former Senate majority secretary whose business affairs came under congressional scrutiny. Hall also cited reports that Fortas had supervised establishment of a trust to administer the President's radio and television properties.

Gross called the naming of Fortas to the Supreme Court inconceivable.

The House does not vote on confirmation of presidential appointments.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said, "It is with regret that I must announce that I am not able to support the President in this instance."

Williams said in a statement Johnson could have made a far wiser choice.

"Contrary to the President's claim that he had looked all over America to find the best qualified man for the job, it is quite obvious that he did not look far beyond his inner circle of friends," Williams said.

Fortas was defended in the House by Reps. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., and Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., who praised his talents and integrity and said magazine articles were not the best source of information for the House in such matters.

Hoffa's Conviction Moves Closer To Supreme Court

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was just one step away today from fulfilling his vow to take his attempted jury-tampering conviction to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday unanimously upheld the conviction, rejecting the 52-year-old labor leader's contentions that he was indicted by an improperly impaneled grand jury and convicted on "tainted" and insufficient evidence.

He may seek a rehearing by the appeals court and, if unsuccessful, then take the case before the Supreme Court. He vowed he would fight the matter to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Hoffa and three other men were convicted March 4, 1964, in U.S. District Court at Chattanooga, Tenn. Hoffa was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000. The three others received four-year prison terms. Their convictions also were upheld.

Hoffa, Larry Campbell of Detroit and Thomas E. Parks and Ewing King of Nashville were convicted of trying to tamper with a jury that tried Hoffa in 1963 in Nashville, Tenn., on charges of conspiracy to violate the Taft-Hartley Act in the so-called Test- Fleet case. The Nashville case ended in a mistrial.

Beetles Brought By Air Force

TRAVIS AFB (UPI)—Two Air Force planes that arrived recently from the Far East brought Japanese beetles into California, it was reported today.

John Gayden, a California Department of Agriculture quarantine inspector, said one beetle was found by a baggage handler and the other on a military aircraft.

The beetles, which destroy plants and trees, have infested eastern states but have not become established in California, although they have been seen in the state from time to time.

The deadline for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and for paying state unemployment insurance taxes for the second quarter of 1965, is Monday, reminded Charles J. Brady, auditor-in-charge for the State Department of Employment in Marin County.

Warship Saves Three Fishermen

SAN DIEGO (AP)—A U. S. Navy destroyer, which happened to be on maneuvers in the area, rescued three fishermen after they had clung to the hatch cover of their sunken boat for 11 hours in rough seas.

A fourth crewman from the 45-foot fishing boat, the Spook, had drowned. His body was recovered and returned to San Diego along with the survivors.

Convict Convicted On Knife Charge

A Marin Superior Court jury late Wednesday found Lloyd D. Watroba, San Quentin inmate, guilty of illegal possession of a knife in the prison last April 10.

Judge Thomas F. Keating sentenced him to at least five years, to run concurrently with his present term for passing worthless checks in Monterey County. The latter conviction was June 11, 1963.

Compromise Hastens Voter Rights Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise by Senate-House conferees has cleared the way for passage next week of the administration's voting-rights bill.

The measure would suspend literacy tests and permit federal registration of voters in wide areas of the South to prevent Negroes from being denied their voting rights.

President Johnson has predicted that "Negro voting will double and redouble in years to come" if Negroes take advantage of the bill.

He went before a joint session of Congress in mid-March, at the peak of the Selma, Ala., civil-rights demonstrations, to urge quick action on the measure.

Senate-House conferees appointed to reconcile differences between the bill passed by the Senate May 26 and the bill passed by the House July 9 reached agreement yesterday at their sixth meeting.

The compromise drops a House-approved ban on state poll taxes, but it contains a strengthened congressional finding that the right to vote is denied or abridged by making their payment a requirement for voting.

And, as in the Senate bill, the attorney general is directed to bring immediate court action to challenge the constitutionality of the poll taxes still collected by four states — Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia — from voters in state and local elections.

A constitutional amendment has outlawed the payment of poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

On another major issue in dispute, the House conferees agreed to accept a Senate provision under which persons educated in American flag schools in languages other than English would be able to vote without passing a state's English-language literacy test.

The chief effect of this will be to enable thousands of Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans in New York City to qualify as voters.

Girls Admit Theft

San Rafael police turned two 15-year-old San Rafael girls over to the county probation department yesterday after they admitted stealing a $14 candy dish from Ludell's at 909 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

If a bride pitches her bouquet to the bridesmaids, she's copying her sisters of medieval France. Gallic lasses originally threw garters.

Marinites' Daughters Living In Bogota And Johannesburg

By MOLLY MARIN

Captain and Mrs. H. Nordmark Williams, Tiburon residents, are having a hard time keeping track of the Williams' daughters. Pat, a recent bride, and her husband James C. Schiltz are now living in Johannesburg, South Africa, where Jim is the sales representative of an American tractor firm. Julie is teaching in Bogota, Columbia, under the auspices of Centro Columbo Americana.

The PIERRE GRIGAUTS of Peacock Gap are planning a vacation trip to Las Vegas with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Mercier of France, who will be in the United States on a pleasure trip. The latter will arrive in the Bay Area at the end of this month to spend a few days visiting the Grigauts. Since Mr. Grigaut is co-owner of La Petite Auberge French Restaurant in San Rafael, and Mr. Mercier is also a restaurateur in his country, they share many common interests and will undoubtedly exchange a few recipes.

ENTERTAINING FOR their houseguests, Dr. and Mrs. R. Sterling Mueller who are visiting from New York, are Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Kilgore of Paradise Cove. The Kilgores will have 30 guests for dinner on Aug. 6 to greet the Muellers. Mrs. Mueller is the former Jean Fuller of San Francisco and Hillsborough. The two couples became acquainted when Dr. Kilgore studied with Dr. Mueller at Rosemont Hospital in New York over 20 years ago. Jean and Sterling will be with Mimi and Gene Kilgore for a week, and then go on to the Fuller Estate, Gravelly, out of Ukiah.

Eye Checks Good For Young Child

Ann McQuade, who works with the nation's nurses in connection with the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, says parents should consider eye examinations for their children long before they are of school age.

Watch a child's eyes from the age of six months, she said.

"If an eye continues to turn out or in after that period, consult a physician," she advised. "It is too late for many defects when a child reaches school age."

ALL BLACK

Dior Collection— Midknee Hemlines

PARIS (AP)—Dior held the hemline at midknee in a collection which was covered up and predominantly black.

Everything in the fashion designer's showing was covered up—even strapless gowns that rise above cleavage and flatten the bosom.

HIS BLACKS were all black, hat and gloves included. The hats were big, wide felt.

"SILHOUETTE in profile" were the words from Dior designer Marc Bohan describing the new shapes.

Straight-back suits had long jackets jutting up and out in front over soft skirts. This concave shaping is created by low basque seaming that rises toward the front. The skirts are flared and lightly gathered at the waist.

LONG-LINE dresses had a profile that was smooth and seamless in front, jutting in back from a low hip seam. The vertical looped drapes, most often held together by a bow at the back of the neck, gave a soft spinnaker billow to the backs of gowns.

DIOR IS not the first house to show strapless gowns raised or arched in front to cover cleavage. Lanvin and Patou have also done them in Paris, and Lancetti in Rome arched them high almost to the collarbone in front.

MARC BOHAN of Christian Dior-Paris brought back the natural waistline this season. These two tendency sketches from the new collection viewed reveal the trend-setting couturier's coat shape—straight front with an indented back—and his wide, buckled belts marking the waist on dresses with supple skirts.

SPECIALLY TRAINED

Term 'Homemaker' Has A New Meaning

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The term "homemaker" is taking on new meaning in modern society.

Homemaker means housewife. Homemaker also means, in a salaried occupation, a person who is a "mature, specially trained woman with skills in homemaking who is employed by a public or voluntary health or welfare agency to help maintain and preserve family life that is threatened with disruption by illness, death, ignorance, social maladjustment, or other problems."

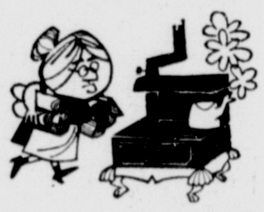
A shorter definition comes from Jane Sarnoff, information associate at the National Council for Homemaker Services, organized in 1959 and supported by various social agencies.

"SHE'S A HOMEMAKER, not a housemaker," said Miss Sarnoff, to indicate that this specialist is not the traditional domestic.

Miss Hart examines the homemaker service, what it accomplishes and why it must be expanded in a new pamphlet.

In the publication, "Homemaker Services . . . for Families and Individuals," she cited case histories showing how the homemaker works. There was the young widow who needed surgery. She was receiving some financial aid from the government's program to help families with dependent children. She reported to her caseworker that she must be hospitalized and there was no adult in the home to care for the children. The caseworker went through her agency listings and arranged for a homemaker to be assigned to the family.

THE HOME AIDE in turn managed the household, cared for the children, and kept the family as a unit until the mother was home and well. Tender, loving care of the children was part of that assignment.



Not all cases needed 24 hour service, Miss Hart pointed out. The homemaker might call, say three times a week at the residence of an elderly person to straighten the house, cook, or shop.

The homemaker need not be a woman of lengthy formal education.

But agencies look for women with pleasant personalities, physical and mental well-being, and experience enough to take on full or partial responsibility for child or adult care, for household management, and for maintaining a wholesome atmosphere in the home.

For this, the salary varies around the country. Miss Sarnoff picked out a couple of rates at random—$1.35 an hour in New York, $40 a week in Texas. In some instances, the rate is higher.

HOMEMAKER SERVICE is not new. Miss Hart said the first was set up in Philadelphia in 1923 by the Jewish Welfare Society. The Children's Aid Society of New York began a service in 1933.

But in recent years, the "big push is on," as Miss Sarnoff said, with services mushrooming to meet the needs. Still there aren't enough homemakers.

Dr. Ellen Winstop, commissioner of welfare, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, repeatedly has said this nation lags far behind other countries. Various sources estimate at least 200,000 women are needed now.

A nation on the move also is creating new needs. For who's to stay with the family when one of the adults is ill if the family's in Los Angeles and grandma and the aunts still live in Buffalo?

Parents Urged To Teach Values

DALLAS (UPI) — The president of the Dallas Crime Commission says that if parents refuse to teach their children the difference between right and wrong, schools and churches may have to take on the job.

"Many of our youngsters aren't even exposed to the moral concepts of right and wrong because their parents neither know nor care," Commission President John McKee said.

He said that 152 children under 12 were arrested last year in Dallas for major crimes. Nationally, the average also is increasing.

"It would seem a lot less trouble to simply ignore a troublesome child than to take him or her to church on Sunday but almost certainly the day will come when the parent will regret this attitude," McKee said.

"A way must be found to teach them right from wrong if their parents won't assume responsibility in this vital area."

REX WHITAKER ALLEN and their children, Mark, Susan and Frances, moved into their new home at 750 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, upon the Allens' return from a three weeks' trip in the East and in Europe. Mr. Allen, president and director of an architectural firm in San Francisco, was a speaker at the Congress of the International Hospital Federation Convention in Stockholm.

Mrs. Allen joined her husband in Washington before they left for Sweden and while their parents were gone the children stayed with relatives in the East. The Allens spent a week in Paris and a week at Lake George with the children before returning to Mill Valley. In Stockholm the Allens met the Lester Gorslines, also at the convention.

BACK IN HER accustomed place at San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere Cove is the 75-ft. steel-hulled ketch, The Dragon Lad. The big yacht has been extensively renovated by owner Stuart Davis. An extended ocean voyage is planned by the Davises later this year.

MILL VALLEY City Engineer Stanley M. Bala and his wife announce the birth of their first child on July 24 at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco. The baby has been named Hanna Elizabeth. The Balas live in Terra Linda.

Sociologists Look Forward

STANFORD (UPI) — Ever wonder what lawmakers think of social scientists?

Some social scientists did and their ears are still burning.

Research psychologist Richard Blum of the Stanford Institute for the Study of Human Problems and a colleague interviewed 42 per cent of the California Legislators and got remarks such as:

—And they are "willing to recommend actions which antagonize the public."

Blum said only a minority of the lawmakers indicated a willingness to pay any attention to what they heard at committee hearings from psychiatrists, psychologists, sociologists or anthropologists.

'Eye For An Eye' Concept May Deter Delinquency

Despite apologists who would defend today's youth as "no worse than yesterday's," we cannot ignore the fact that senseless vandalism and violence by the younger generation are increasing.

Crime figures, just released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, show an increase in crime in general, particularly by juvenile offenders.

We don't pretend to know the long-range solutions to the problem of juvenile crimes. The tolerant approach—handling youngsters with kid gloves and giving them repeated opportunities to make good—may be one of the necessary tools in any long-term program of rehabilitation.

But we are now equally concerned with the immediate problem of protecting lives and property from unprovoked attack.

If the unruly elements continue to pillage and plunder and ignore the pleas for law and order, then society may have to start pushing back.

Indications are that citizen patience is fast wearing thin, and that acts of juvenile vandalism are being met with immediate counteraction.

The temporary suspension of evening activities at Terra Linda Recreation Center is one. It is true that the law-abiding teen-agers, who constitute the vast majority, were also inconvenienced because of the temporary shutdown.

However, drastic action in this case was probably the most effective way to demonstrate to youth that recreation facilities are a privilege, not a right; that if the privilege is abused, it can be taken away.

In a San Francisco park recently, rock throwers broke $4,600 worth of window panes in a swimming pool building.

The judge who handled the case imposed financial restitution on the parents, sentenced older juveniles to perform work for the park, and banned all from use of park and recreation facilities for various periods.

Here again, the innocent suffered along with those responsible. But if direct action is the only language that some of the young irresponsibles understand, then direct action will have to be taken.

The time is rapidly approaching when the "eye for eye" concept must be considered as a short-range remedy, along with the more sophisticated methods of reprimand, probation, and rehabilitation.

College Program Praised

College of Marin may be small as colleges go, but don't underestimate its scholastic prowess.

The college's dental assisting program has been given a full five-year accreditation by the American Dental Association's Council on Dental Education.

The accreditation report commended the program's over-all excellence and praised the equipment and reference library available to students.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Now, The State Will Get Bite On Every Used Car, Boat Trade

By WAT TAKESHITA

FROM SUNDAY, it's going to cost you more to buy a used car or boat or airplane from a private party.

Up to now, you paid 4 per cent tax only when you bought from dealers.

But under the revised California Sales and Use Tax Law, the buyer is liable for the 4 per cent tax even if he purchases from or makes a trade with a friend.

Takeshita

In the case of used cars, the buyer pays the tax to the Department of Motor Vehicles. For vessels, the buyer pays to the State Board of Equalization.

THERE ARE a few exemptions. One is sale between immediate family members. Also, vessels like canoes or kayaks and sailboats eight feet or less in length are exempt.

Otherwise, tax-free sales of boats, trailers, autos and airplanes among private parties have virtually ended. Thus, if you're thinking of buying a $1,000 jalopy from a neighbor friend, you'll need an extra $40 to pay the state.

To make matters worse, all the attachments that go with the car or vessel are included in computing tax. For example, a motor or trailer that comes with the boat would be part of the purchase price. And whether you pay cash or give something in trade makes no difference. The total value is used as the basis for tax.

ROBERT H. FINCH, GOP hopeful for lieutenant governor, is off to an early start in a race that's almost a year away.

He sees Sam Yorty as a "tough, gutty fighter" who can probably beat Governor Brown.

AND RICHARD NIXON will exert little or no influence in California politics next year. Finch ought to know, because he was Vice President Nixon's right-hand man in the White House. He was also state chairman for George Murphy last year.

What roles will Marin's two Republican legislators play next year.

Finch can't say. But he has heard Assemblyman Bill Bagley mentioned for several posts, notably state controller; and Sen. Jack McCarthy for both the governor and lieutenant governor posts.

Finch is trying to get as wide a support as possible — from the Reagan to the Kuchel forces. But he has been critical of Robert Welch and the Birch Society.

STEPHEN SHADEGG, who was Barry Goldwater's campaign manager from 1952 to 1962, has come out with a new book entitled, "What Happened To Goldwater?"

Shadegg was ghost-writer of Goldwater's newspaper column, "How Do You Stand, Sir?" from 1960 to 1962.

Denison Kitchel, who headed Goldwater's presidential campaign, was a member of the Birch Society in 1960-61 but quit when Welch charged Ike with being a Communist.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Teens Again Used As Whipping Boys

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Sometimes I-J's dislike for the young springs a leak. It's too eager to smash youth offenders and weep and shake fists with the poor taxpayer.

Its moral involvement is always fast and malicious; it smears the young as if they were gophers ruining the civic gardens, and majestically pulls Terra Linda to its bosom to rap off the tax rates and the hot-shot answers rendered by the directors of the T. L. Community Services District. "The recent outbreak . . . may result in a tax boost to provide additional police protection." I-J loves punishment.

I suggest an intercom system between the police station and the rec center, and opening and closing procedures for those responsible for keys, doors, locks and the general welfare at the center. Why does a girl lifeguard, when she hears noise in an office she just closed, enter in the dark and close the door behind her? She was knocked cold, but certainly proved she wasn't afraid of the dark. Similarly, the preventive device of a night light in the office is not as costly as a tax hike . . .

What matters is the CSD's and I-J's attempt to use the young adult as a whipping boy for their own failure of humane imagination; they are the kind of men whose imaginations can find no way of showing their manhood and intelligence except by advocating the destruction of human spirit already humiliated by city fathers and small town newspapers . . .

The answer is not in taxes. Money won't buy anything you need with respect for the young. Saying it does has only imaginary value. The banks of human spirit won't credit it, because it hides its motives. Only in the emotional honesty and content of a community can you find the answer and the inspiration and the hope for the total citizenry, its diversifications of character and interest notwithstanding.

Steinke Should Have Gone To Berkeley

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There was a letter in the paper today (July 23) disagreeing with your editorial and obviously with my letter regarding Lt. Steinke.

I believe anyone who is privileged to go to West Point or any other academy should be patriotic and aware of his responsibility.

I am also aware of what it has cost US to put him through West Point.

I think it is too bad he didn't go to the University of California or some place like that because he obviously was not the right type for West Point.

Young Demos Have Right To Dissent

Editor, Independent Journal:

I take issue with Paul R. Haerle's opinions as expressed in his letter (I-J, July 20) regarding the stand of the Marin Young Democrats on our present foreign policy in Viet Nam.

It has always been the right of every United States citizen to disagree with any part of his government's policy, and criticize it if he wishes, without fear of reprisal. Are we back, heaven forbid, to the "dissent becomes disloyalty" era?

I am a third-generation Democrat who on the whole has agreed with her party's platforms, but who has not felt constrained to refrain from voicing contrary opinions as to the wisdom or effectiveness of some of them. Being in my sixties, I cannot qualify for the classification of "teenager", and Haerle's "necessary implication" (!) that only adolescents or generally irresponsible or immature individuals can differ on vital governmental policies. I wonder what labelling Haerle applies to the respectable and reputable members of his own political party, the Republican Party, such as Representative Ford, who are apprehensive about the wisdom of the United States role in Viet Nam, and if he would also disavow them.

Haerle has no right to demand a repudiation by the Marin County Democratic Party of the stand of its members or group of members. We are not "pro" any political "ism," Haerle, just procommon sense.

Stop Killing Viets, Let Them Ballot

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why undermine the causes for which Adlai fought? Two good reasons come immediately to mind. First, as an appointed official, Ambassador Stevenson had no choice but to publicly defend the policies his "employer" decided upon . . . All the wit, eloquence, and poise in the world do not change an aggressive, warlike foreign policy into a peaceloving one.

Secondly, even assuming that Mr. Stevenson's alleged support of President Johnson's war in Viet Nan was 100 percent sincere, his statement, as you quote it, refutes itself on several counts. Changes in Asia are not being precipitated by outside torces so much as being prevented by one great outside force. The U. S. is going to extreme lengths to prevent any change toward communism even if the Asians happen to want it. Certainly Asia will be more stable from our point of view if we can bring about a Korean-type division which will enable us to stay in there, but why should Viet Nam give up its South any more than we would ours —troublesome as it is? Having fought so valiantly to drive out the French and having won the terms of the 1954 Geneva agreement, why should they settle for less on our account? Might does not make right.

If we really want the people of South Viet Nam to decide their own future, couldn't we stop killing them long enough to let them hold an open and honest election? Then, if they really need and want outside "help", it should come from the U.N., not us acting on our own.

Misguided we advocates of peace may be, Mr. Editor, but mostly we just believe in the Golden Rule.

Rockefeller Move Should Help Center-Of-The-Road Candidate

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Three consequences flow from Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's action in removing himself — "now and forever"—as a presidential candidate:

1. It makes it nearly certain that the 1968 Republican candidate will be a political moderate.

2. It virtually rules out the danger that the remaining rivals for the GOP nomination will again get into such a lacerating contest that the moderate forces within the party would end up helplessly divided—as they were in 1964.

3. Barring the emergence of another Wendell Willkie, who is less visible today than Mars, it narrows the probable choice to Gov. George Romney of Michigan, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and perhaps former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Each is qualified personally and politically. Any of them could get it. One of them almost certainly will.

The potential candidates of the two farthest-apart wings of the party have both taken themselves out of the running. Barry Goldwater has said he would not seek renomination. Now Rockefeller follows suit. These decisions in themselves shift the eyes of the party to its political center.

It is no accident that Rockefeller chose the governors' conference here in Minneapolis as the occasion to make his political announcement. He picked it deliberately and, thereby, underlined the powerful role the GOP governors have played in the past and can again play in deciding the party's presidential nominee.

ALL THE MOST influential Republican governors are in the moderate-to-liberal wing. They include Volpe of Massachusetts, Chaffee of Rhode Island, Rhodes of Ohio, Hatfield of Oregon, Smylie of Idaho, as well as Rockefeller, Scranton and Romney. And, significantly, they take in most of the populous states.

This is a lot of political power at the center of the party. These governors have probably learned enough from their preconvention experience of 1964 to realize that they can't influence the presidential nomination at the last minute, that their power as leaders must be concerted—or dissipated. With both Goldwater and Rockefeller removing themselves, the prospect is that the long-exercised power of the governors will not be dissipated, that most of it will be mobilized behind a candidate who will reflect the moderate consensus.

"I THINK," he said, "that in order to pull the party back together, to unite it, to make it possible to forget some of the scars of the past, my withdrawal will be a real asset in accomplishing this."

It will. This is a good step, a broad-gauged decision. Even if his prospects were thin, it could not have been easy to foreclose them totally.

The largest cloud on the Republican horizon today is that the most extreme conservatives, hard-core supporters of Goldwater will turn themselves into a third-party movement and devote themselves to two purposes: Defeating liberal Republican candidates in selected senatorial and congressional races and finding an ultra-conservative to run against both the Republican and Democratic nominees in 1968.

This would be hurtful to the conservative cause, to the Republican Party, to the functioning of the federal government. Because of the havoc the Republicans inflicted on themselves last year, we have a very weakened two-party government in Washington today. If you add to this weakness a third party, it will be a long time before we recover.

IT SHOULD BE out of character for Goldwater to have any part of such a maneuver.

More Foreign Aid Waste Is Uncovered

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The malodorous record of foreign aid waste, squandering and innumerable other shortcomings and failings continues to grow and grow and grow.

While President Lyndon B. Johnson is adamantly demanding Congress vote another $3.3 billion for foreign aid, the General Accounting Office is uncovering new instances of costly mismanagement, bungling, inconsistencies and incoherencies.

Latest GAO findings reveal the Agency for International Development (AID) has been needlessly spending millions in direct conflict with the government's strenuous efforts to combat the critical balance-of-payments deficit.

In one case $3.8 million was unnecessarily spent for shipping costs that could have been paid with Brazilian currency.

In another, some $5.5 million in surplus U.S. tallow was "sold" to the United Arab Republic for its "soft" currency that stayed in that country—thus displacing U.S. commercial sales of the commodity for dollars.

As a result of these two AID snafus, close to $10 million was added to the balance-of-payments deficit.

Rep. Vernon Thomson, R-Wis., member of the Foreign Affairs Committee who has long sought to drastically overhaul foreign aid operations, caustically cited these two instances as glaring examples of the "confusion, conflict of program and lack of policy in the foreign aid program."

Thomson is drafting legislation to bar such contradictory AID operations. He will offer it as an amendment to the foreign aid appropriations bill when it is considered by the full House.

"In 1958 UAR imports of tallow amounted to about 32,000 metric tons, which were obtained from U.S. exporters for dollars. In 1964 UAR imports increased to about 56,000 metric tons, but U.S. commercial dollar sales decreased to 21,600 metric tons," the GAO reports.

"We believe the real reason for the unrealistic assessment is the overriding consideration by the State Department of foreign policy aspects and the implications of P.L. 480 programs, and the administration of these programs in a manner which focuses primarily on this consideration rather than on the safeguarding of U.S. commercial exports."

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, veteran member of the Foreign Affairs Committee and militant battler for economy, is trying to get at the bottom of U.S. expenditures in the deadlocked Dominican embroilment.

Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., is demanding the administration immediately suspend all give-away food shipments to Egypt. Says Halpern, "The GAO reports that almost one-half of 186,000 tons of corn given by the U.S. to the UAR in 1961, for distribution to the needy, was sold by Nasser. This is a clear-cut case of fraud and corruption. When Egypt sold food provided by the U.S. as a gift for the needy, Egypt forfeited any further qualification for inclusion in such programs.

"I AM CALLING on the president to immediately suspend any portion of the $37.5 million remaining under the agricultural assistance program to Egypt . . . "

Numbers Dance Before Eyes In Talking Of Viet Buildup

WASHINGTON—The American government announced today that 1,000 U. S. troops have just landed in South Viet Nam. These 5,000 men will be used to protect air fields and vital installations around Saigon, though officials did not rule out that the 15,000 combat-ready soldiers supported by 10,000 aviation personnel would be used to take the fight to the enemy.

An Army spokesman said that the 35,000 troop landing was carried out by plane and sea and that the 50,000-man force, which did not include an armored division landed earlier in the day, would for the moment constitute enough men to handle the situation. A Defense Department spokesman said:

"IF IN THE NEAR future we discover that these 150,000 men are not enough, we will send in more troops, but it is unlikely, as 200,000 GIs should be sufficient under present fighting conditions."

A newspaperman asked if the sending of 300,000 fresh troops at this time meant that the U. S. "was escalating the war."

"No," he replied, "it means no such thing. We always intended to send in 400,000 troops and this is just part of a military build-up. In a guerrilla war, it is assumed the ratio of troops to the guerrillas is 10 to 1. Since we estimate that there are now 50,000 guerrillas in South Viet Nam, our decision to send in 500,000 more soldiers is not unrealistic."

Another reporter asked if the United States intended to get bogged down in a ground war in South Viet Nam, something that every American military leader had advised against.

"The answer to your question is negative," the spokesman said. "Our job from the beginning has been to give as much support to the South Vietnamese army as we possibly can. With the arrival of these 700,000 GIs, we can release the South Vietnamese army for major missions."

"ISN'T IT TRUE that the South Vietnamese government has requested that the American soldiers take over the fighting, while the South Vietnamese regroup and help the people in the villages?"

"There was some talk of that, but the decision will have to be made in Washington. Although we now have 800,000 more American troops, it is still our hope that we fight side by side with the Vietnamese soldiers."

"Sir, the rumor is that the South Vietnamese army may soon switch roles and become advisers to the American troops."

"The South Vietnamese have offered to cooperate in any way they can. Perhaps at a future date they may take a more active role, but you must remember our latest commitment is only 900,000 men and we have no intention of raising it unless the situation warrants it."

Someone said to the Army spokesman: "Of the 950,000 men landed this morning, how many of them are combat-trained as opposed to service troops?"

"It's hard to say. By the way, gentlemen, I've just been asked to correct the figure I gave you earlier. A million Americans were landed this morning and will be used mostly as an advance force to set up facilities for regular troops who will be landed in the next few weeks."

"How many men will be landed next week?"

"WE CAN'T SAY at this time, but the commitment will be kept to a minimum. While we are pledged to help the South Vietnamese, we don't want to do anything to give the impression that the South Viet Nam conflict is an American war."

CORE's Quiett Man Migrates Back To Marin City Homesite

THE OTHER DAY we learned that Doug Quiett is moving from Tiburon's Hilarita housing back to Marin City, where he has purchased a cooperative apartment.

Asked if he would buy a cooperative apartment in another part of Marin if he could, Quiett replied, "No, I don't think so.

"Because too often in Negro communities people who have some degree of awareness and know how to go about getting jobs done for a community . . . they so often move away from that community where there is a real need for activity and really meeting people involved in a social life and in all community activities.

"Too often people, once they reach a plateau where they have 'made it' to some degree, move out. I think I could be of more help in my community. This is an important part of my job, to be living in Marin City."

Quiett, a janitor for Marin Country Day School for about four years, was recently hired by Marin County as community aid for the community relations department to work in the poverty program. Target area now, he said, is Marin City, but future work will be to isolate other poverty pockets in the county.

ASKED ABOUT his job as janitor, Quiett answered, "It was just a job to tide me over, to keep food in my mouth. It was a waste of my talents."

Quiett, 25, a Democrat, is the man who founded the Marin chapter of Congress Of Racial Equality. He is now adult advisor to the student section.

He came to Marin City at the age of two, when his father first worked in the shipyard. Quiett attended Marin City, Richardson Bay and Tamalpais High schools. He has had one and one-half years at College of Marin and plans to continue there in September.

"Marin City has come through some real changes," said the soft-spoken Quiett. "As a small boy I remember it as being a real integrated community. Over the years whites could move out to find better employment and housing elsewhere in the county. It was not true for the Negro. I have seen Marin City change to a 95 per cent Negro community, which in my definition is a ghetto.

"There have been some steps made recently that will possibly change the image of Marin City and let people start to think of it as a community into which people can feel safe to move, where schools are good. I think this is all part of the process of redeveloping Marin City and making it into an integrated community.

"I think a lot of people have become interested because of the civil rights movement. Too long people used to pass Marin City on their way to San Francisco. Nobody tried to find out what life was like. I think the county has isolated Marin City, and this has created some problems we have today. . . .

"NOW THE MOVE is to really make Marin City a part of Marin County. Also a larger portion of the leadership in the move in making it a part of the county is coming from Marin City."

Quiett likes to read, especially Negro history, likes sports and jazz and says he is fascinated by politics.

Buying his own home, Quiett commented, "It means a lot more to the people who have lived there for 20 years to be able to have their own homes and apartments than to live in the low-rent project. It is a big difference over living in the old wartime housing. The people who have bought homes really have a sense of belonging and security and pride in their community. I am a part of that."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Retirement From Office Shouldn't Remove Right To Voice Criticism

FUSSELMAN

Some months ago a man spoke to my wife, as she was leaving the church, and told her to tell me I should quit criticizing the administrator as I was no longer in office. Well, it would seem that an informed citizen should not be barred from expressing his thoughts on any subject. This should not be the exclusive right of officialdom.

TODAY I AM going to comment on some administrator matters. To begin with, it might be well to again review his employment experience before coming to work for the county: Five months, administrative assistant, War Production Board, San Francisco; six months, wage analyst, National War Labor Board, San Francisco; three years, examiner, National Labor Relations Board, San Francisco; eight years, deputy labor commissioner, State of California, San Francisco, and one year and four months, Kroeger and Associates, consultant, Manila. This history of employment would not seem to be productive of an expert on county financing, county law, county health and welfare, public works, county planning, transportation, accounting, and data processing, assessing, law enforcement, and to be an expert on business development, with an assistant to be added to his constantly enlarging department (now 15).

The administrator's salary is $21,000 plus two assistants at $13,332 and $13,296, and then $13,200 for the new addition. I doubt that private industry would consider that such a background as his would warrant assignments and salary ranges that are now taking place.

HERE IS QUITE a contrast. This from the I-J about two weeks ago: "Bruce Nips Hollis' Idea for Another Executive' . . . "A $12,000 -coordinator of vocational education' . . . proposed under a section of the State Education Code that required concurrence of the county board of supervisors . . . was forwarded to the supervisors, but was intercepted by County Administrator Alan Bruce." He wrote a memo to Hollis stating that "the county counsel has found that a coordinator of vocational education does not apply under the code section" (this position was to help implement the war against poverty program). "Accordingly, this will not be placed on the board's agenda and no action will be taken on the matter."

Hollis was not given an opportunity to be heard by the board and the board was prevented from making any attempt to harmonize with the president's program. This whole situation is reaching a stage of utter incomprehension.

SEVERAL PEOPLE have asked me if I write the headings for this column. The answer is, "No." Frankly, I don't know who writes them. These things are all handled by a large group in the editorial department. I express my personal thoughts on various topics. Most of them are printed. Occasionally there is a deletion.

Graves had a heart attack Wednesday while vacationing in southwest Colorado with his family.

He was head of the test division at the laboratory since 1945, two years after he came to the plant where the first atomic bomb was built.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Beauty Coincidental For 'Miss America'

By ROBERT MUSEL

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) —Once upon a time there was a Miss America whose figure was as pear-shaped as her vowels. She had a small bust, broad waist and hearty hips yet she moved with such elegance no one, least of all the judges, considered her unusual measurements a drawback.

For the sake of living room comparisons with your wife or girl friend she had a 32 inch bust, 26½ inch waist and 37½ inch hips!

Actually these statistics somehow seemed to fit well together and they were surmounted by a very pretty face, indeed. The case of this winner came up the other day in a discussion on what exactly this resort city's "Miss America Pageant" is looking for when it crowns its choice before a vast nationwide television audience.

"It is not specifically a beauty contest, "declared Albert A. Marks, Jr., chairman of the executive committee. "We are not looking for a beauty per se. Or a brain per se. Or a performer per se.

Marks thought it was time to restate the objectives of the Miss America Pageant lest it be confused with contests designed purely to select the beautiful. As it happened the photographs we riffled through of the winners of the 50 state contests were all of extremely handsome and shapely young ladies but this, according to Marks, is merely a pleasing coincidence.

"It's not, like some others, a contest of measurements," he said. "We even tried to eliminate them one year but newspapers protested. We tried to eliminate cheesecake pictures on another occasion but the newsreel cameramen walked out. Right out.

"We are looking," he said, "for the finer type American girl and we are ore concerned with her grace and poise in an evening gown than her appearance in a bathing suit. We don't check the bathing suits the girls wear, you know. What's the difference if its an 'A' cup or a 'B' cup or a 'C' cup? You can engineer any size bust into a bathing suit these days."

He said however that the Miss America competitors all happened to look good in bathing suits.

"Coincidence again?"

"Quite," he smiled.

When they tried to cross into Greece on July 2, he said, a Bulgarian soldier carrying a machine gun stopped them five yards from the border, searched the car and discovered the youth under the luggage.

Sausalitans Enjoy Trip To Mongolia

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Yaks, yurts and the milk of a camel are no longer mysteries to Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mohler of Sausalito.

Neighbors who like to travel together, they have just returned from a 32,186-mile trip. They spent 10 days in Mongolia, 31 in the Soviet Union—during which they took the Moscow-to-Peking express to Irkutsk — and visited India, Pakistan, Afghanistan and the Kingdom of Swat.

The whole trip was built around a desire to go to the Republic of Mongolia, said Spring. "To go into the country, you must go as a group. There were 10 of us."

They traveled 600 miles in Mongolia by Russian jeep and one day went to the Gobi Desert for a picnic. "We had caviar, koumiss (fermented mare's milk) and, of course, borscht," said Mrs. Mohler.

Mrs. Mohler said the foursome visited a large Buddhist monastery in Kara Korum where they took tea with the High Abbott in his yurt (home). "My husband gave the abbott a Kennedy half dollar and about two minutes later was given a beautiful blue silk scarf . . . it was terribly moving."

Politically, said Spring, he believes Russia and China would both like to have Mongolia. "They are playing cat and mouse and, at the moment, Russia is the cat," he said.

They visited a cooperative farm which had 70,000 animals, 50,000 of which were horses. "The horses are the greatest interest in the country and they have enormous herds of wild horses," explained Mrs. Spring.

"We enjoyed Mongolia, riding camels, seeing the yurts, and we saw a horse round-up at Bogda," said Mrs. Mohler. She also described Mongolian wrestling at Ulan Bator, where four groups of wrestlers fought on "a magnificent Chinese carpet."

"It is a sort of grunt and groan thing," she added.

The Mohlers and Springs, who have known each other 25 years, took a freighter to the Orient in 1954. Spring is retired, Mohler semi-retired.

Spring praised the railroad equipment on the 3,200-mile trip, most of which was in Siberia. "If any private railroad in the U.S. had half as much traffic, they would be pleased as all get out and could pay some dividends," he reported. The train, however, never stopped for more than 15 minutes and seldom went more than 45 miles an hour.

The railroad system, related Spring, is electrified or dieselized.

Spring said Russian food is "poor" and train food was no different. His wife remarked, "you had stroganoff and cucumbers three times a day."

They found Russian people "extremely friendly" and, according to Mrs. Mohler, one evening at a concert a girl came up to her to practice her English. "In about five minutes she took off her earrings and gave them to me," she said.

"Neither of us hold any brief for communism but we can't help but see what the Russians have done in the Trans-Caucusus, to tap rivers and bring water to irrigate the desert, to plant windbreaks, and to bring education to those people who were 100 per cent illiterate before," Mrs. Mohler said.

The group visited Hong Kong, where they looked up a child whom the Sausalito Salvage Shop maintains through the Foster Parents plan, and a boy the Mohlers provide for themselves.

They visited Sringar during riots following arrest by Indians of Shiek Abdullah of Kashmir and were forced to remain two days in their houseboat for safety.

In the princely state, the Kingdom of Swat, in West Pakistan, the two couples met and talked with the ruling Wali, Maj. Gen. Miangul Jahan Zeb. Zeb runs the 4,000-square mile mountainous state, said Spring.

Spring said he lost two and one-half notches in his belt because of Russian food.

"Our guides never failed to ask me 'and what do you do?' especially women," said Mrs. Mohler. They (Russian women) all do something.

"I said 'I do nothing. I'm a capitalist. I'm a wife, mother, grandmother, cook, housekeeper, a laundress, gardener and sometimes a plumber. And, also I entertain my husband's business acquaintances and I think that's enough for any woman.' "

ON TOP TEN—Alson Thomas Warlich, 29, has been added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "most wanted" list for flight after kidnaping, beating and molesting a six-year-old girl in Tucson, Ariz., in April, 1964. Armed and believed carrying a surgical scalpel in his pocket, the blond, blue-eyed 135-pounder is 5 feet 2 inches tall, and has a heart and "Cindy" tattooed on his left arm. The former ice cream truck driver has a record of sex offenses. Report of his whereabouts should be made to nearest police or FBI agency.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court ordered Marenco's $550 bail exonerating. Marenco, of 78 Dominga Avenue, was booked in Marin County jail for being on the next door property of his separated wife, Myrna, 80 Dominga Avenue.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Von Ryan's Express' Now Showing At Sequoia

By LES DARD

SEQUOIA THEATER

It stars Frank Sinatra and Trevor Howard, just as important are its exciting story, superlative performances by lesser lights and marvelous Italian backgrounds.

The year is 1943, just before Italy is invaded by the Allies. American Air Corps Col. Sinatra is shot down and interned in a POW camp. There he finds remnants of a crack British regiment under Major Trevor Howard.

Sinatra takes command, wins the "Von Ryan" moniker by dealing with the Fascist commandant, but gets food, medicine and clothing for the men.

When the Allies invade, the Fascists take off—and so do the prisoners. They don't get far before the Nazis catch them, herd them onto a train for Germany.

But the prisoners fight back, take over the train and make a pulse - pounding race for the Swiss border with another trainload of Nazis breathing down the track.

It's fascinating watching all the way.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Remember last year when Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton filmed a movie on the Monterey Peninsula? The result, "The Sandpiper," is now on screen.

The Big Sur, San Simeon (the town) and Monterey have rarely been more beautifully depicted.

Burton is strong as an Episcopal minister and headmaster of a boys school. He meets Liz when a Monterey judge decides she—a non-conforming artist—is not a good influence on her son. The boy is ordered to Burton's school.

Liz and Dick get off on the wrong foot, but before long they are exchanging visits, and finally it's a scandal.

The ending is non-Hollywood, the total experience interesting.

RAFAEL THEATER

Very different indeed is the current "The Monkey's Uncle," which sends Walt Disney's special effects men back to college for another bout with brainy science student Merlin Jones.

This time Merlin, still at Midvale College, adopts a chimpanzee to use in his sleep-teaching experiments. The chimp turns out to be smarter than a lot of people, and Merlin puts his talents to work.

MOTOR MOVIES

"The Train," is an exciting wartime adventure drama starring Burt Lancaster and British star Paul Scofield in his first American role.

The film is set in Paris as the Nazis pull out before the liberation.

LARK THEATER

High adventure, high emotion and superlative photography combine in "Lord Jim," cinema version of Joseph Conrad's novel. Peter O'Toole stars.

Daliah Lavi, Eli Wallach and James Mason also have major roles.

101 DRIVE-IN

Stunningly portrayed high adventure in the war of the Pacific gives special distinction to "In Harm's Way," now showing.

Many big names dot the cast, but most action is centered on hard - bitten Navy career man Capt. John Wayne, his second in command Kirk Douglas and nurse Patricia Neal.

NOVATO THEATER

A Disney double bill is now on screen:

"Cinderella," a classic film we hope will keep coming back so that no children must ever miss it; and

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Held over is the cinematic gem, "Zorba, the Greek."

FAIRFAX THEATER

Iraq Offers Pay For Stray Bombs

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — An Iraqi Embassy spokesman says his government will pay indemnity for losses sustained when an Iraqi air force plane bombed and strafed a Turkish border town.

The Turkish Interior Ministry said one man was killed and 10 other persons wounded when a twin-engine plane strafed Chukarcha, in Hakkari Province bordering northern Iraq.

New Park Rites Set In Sausalito

Dedication of the postage-sized Sausalito Foundation Park, beside Bridgeway and reached by a boardwalk over the bay between Ondine restaurant and the Glad Hand, will be held at 10 a.m. on Aug. 7.

Jack Wagner, Foundation president, will present a plaque to Mayor Jan Paul Dyk to be installed at the park, the tiniest in Sausalito.

Mrs. Dyk spearheaded the drive for the park along with obtaining more than 150 trees which wereplanted along Bridgeway between Napa Street and the northern portion of Marinship, Mrs. Alice Turnley Williams, publicity chairman, reported.
